

Year 10 English: Writing Task: Writing a Speech

Task Description: You are to write a speech for a friend who is giving a presentation to the school community about the importance of mental health. The speech should be persuasive and informative. It should also include a call to action for the school community to support mental health.	Task Instructions: Your speech should be 5-7 minutes long. It should include an introduction, a body, and a conclusion. The introduction should state the purpose of the speech and the topic. The body should provide information about the importance of mental health and the challenges faced by students. The conclusion should summarize the key points and include a call to action for the school community to support mental health.	Assessment Criteria: Your speech will be assessed on the following criteria: - Content: The speech should be informative and persuasive, providing clear evidence to support your arguments. - Structure: The speech should be well-organized, with a clear introduction, body, and conclusion. - Language: The speech should be written in a clear, concise, and formal style, using appropriate vocabulary and grammar. - Delivery: The speech should be delivered with confidence, clarity, and enthusiasm, using appropriate tone and volume.
Planning: Before you write your speech, you should plan your ideas. This includes identifying your main points, gathering evidence, and organizing your thoughts into a logical sequence.	Writing: Once you have planned your speech, you can begin writing. Start with a strong introduction that captures the attention of your audience. Then, present your main points in a clear and concise manner, using evidence to support your arguments. End with a strong conclusion that summarizes your key points and includes a call to action.	Revising: After you have finished writing your speech, you should revise it. This includes checking for errors in grammar, punctuation, and spelling, as well as ensuring that your speech is clear, concise, and persuasive.
Peer Review: Once you have revised your speech, you should ask a friend to review it. This will help you to identify any areas for improvement and ensure that your speech is easy to understand and persuasive.	Final Draft: After you have received feedback from your friend, you can write your final draft. Make sure to incorporate any suggestions for improvement and ensure that your speech is polished and professional.	Delivery: On the day of the presentation, you should deliver your speech with confidence and enthusiasm. Use eye contact, clear pronunciation, and appropriate tone and volume to engage your audience.
Reflection: After you have delivered your speech, you should reflect on your experience. This includes thinking about what you learned, what you enjoyed, and what you would do differently next time.	Assessment: Your speech will be assessed by your teacher and the school community. You should be proud of your work and the effort you put into it.	Feedback: You will receive feedback from your teacher and the school community. This feedback will help you to improve your writing and speaking skills for the future.

Contemporary Autobiography of a Science Educator reminds readers that they teach who they are and understanding who they are is fundamental for meaningful communication and effective classroom instruction The book is for science educators teacher educators and others who wish to examine their own personal and professional identities in the social and cultural contexts in which their lives are embedded Just as teaching can be viewed as relationship with others this contemporary autobiography is situated on the significance of relationship with self As a contemporary autobiography the narrative reveals the author's subjective truths while digging deeply into psychosocial motives of power and intimacy The author reflects on his personal choices and career decisions that led him into and out of high school science teaching The book contains stories and reflections from summer work camp experiences undergraduate college days teacher preparation episodes and high school science teaching Story themes are diversity and leadership group identity and motivation urban teaching and teacher preparation and high school science teaching These themes evolve out of nuclear episodes of the author's storied life that brings present day understanding and meaning from past actions and interactions This kind of critical introspection may hold special relevance for teachers teacher educators and others who wish to make their own identities salient and relevant to their own needs and interests as well as the needs and interests of students teacher candidates and clients whom they serve

Teaching and Learning in the Science Laboratory Dimitris Psillos, H. Niedderer, 2006-05-05 Scope of the book There is an on going debate regarding the role of labwork in science education which dates back several decades and which illustrates the conviction and interest of teachers researchers and policy makers world wide in the value of laboratory work for understanding science This is evident in more recent books and studies regarding the laboratory which mainly refer to countries with a considerable tradition in practical work in science education Woolnough Alsop 1985 Hodson 1993 Hegarthy Hazel 1990 Wellington 2000 Yet in discussing research studies on labwork several authors express their concern about its effectiveness in facilitating students understanding of various aspects of scientific inquiry They point out a comprehensive re conceptualisation of the aims of labwork and as a consequence of investigating what the students actually learn in different contexts Lazarowitz Tamir 1994 Tobin Tippins 1993 Lunetta 1998 It has also been argued that the relationship between instructional activities and student learning in labwork needs more attention than it has been given in science education research Leach Paulsen 1999 It appears that the case for research based labwork emerges in several quarters in science education particularly among researchers This book presents and discusses a variety of laboratory practices and their effectiveness The studies take into account recent theoretical developments and empirical results concerning students understanding of scientific inquiry A whole chapter is devoted to technological advances offering new learning opportunities for the students and teaching facilities for the teacher
