today and yet might be Blue Awakenings After a decade of bar tending in resorts Nick checks on his best friend David in Vancouver only to learn David is convinced that a quiet existence in the burbs is the solution to all of their problems Or will it be the biggest mistake of their lives A Purple Winter A near fatal motorcycle brings Derek O Reilly's life to a grinding halt and as he sinks into a coma his mind travels back to that long ago winter when he first met his husband Nicolai Lund the bad boy next door with the arctic blue eyes But Derek must choose between remaining lost in his imagination or coming back to Nick to love him in the here and now where forever truly exists Persimmon Kiss A year has passed since Derek's accident and he still battles with brain injury symptoms When Nick is called abroad on business their friend Myles agrees to step in and help The two men want what's best for Derek but soon they discover that they're not rivals and what's there between them is echoed in Derek's heart Can they let go of their fear and allow this new love to unfold Red Dreams Mel Bossa, 2020-10-17

One thing Derek has always searched for is perfection And in Nick's love he thought he'd found it But marriage is rarely perfect and Nick Lund isn't a myth but a human being faulted as anyone With their relationship on the rocks Derek faces loneliness and doubt estranged from the man he's adored for most of his life When he learns that he has a cousin living in the city a young man named Myles he never knew existed Derek seeks him out The two men begin a beautiful friendship that provides Derek with some solace and perspective But in spite of the affection he feels for Myles Derek's heart belongs to Nick who's willing to do anything to get them back on track Nick is ready to forsake his restaurant Split the city life he adores and all of his ambitions to win Derek's trust again Derek is convinced that a quiet existence in the burbs is the solution to all of their problems Or will it be the biggest mistake of their lives A Purple Winter Mel Bossa, 2017-12-16

Derek O Reilly was never good at reality After twenty years of adulthood he's disenchanted with his life but his husband Chef Nick Lund is still chasing success Then a near fatal motorcycle accident brings everything to a halt and opens a door to a time Derek thought he'd never experience again As Derek sinks into a coma his mind returns to the winter he first fell for Nick the bad boy with arctic blue eyes But in this coma fantasy Derek isn't a helpless child anymore No this time he's older and making Nick Lund stutter and swoon for a change While Derek slips away Nick sits by him in the hospital devastated To pull his lover back from the land of dreams he must say what he's never said before Derek has a choice remain lost in his imagined world or return to Nick in the here and now where forever truly exists Literature and the Remains of the Death Penalty Peggy Kamuf, 2018-10-16

Why have generations of philosophers failed or refused to articulate a rigorous challenge to the death penalty when literature has been rife with death penalty abolitionism for centuries In this book Peggy Kamuf explores why any properly philosophical critique of capital punishment in the West must confront the literary as that which exceeds the logical demands of philosophy Jacques Derrida has written that the modern history of the institution named literature in Europe over the last three or four centuries is contemporary with and indissociable from a contestation of the death penalty How Kamuf asks does literature contest the death penalty today particularly in the United States where it remains the last of its kind in a Western nation that professes to be a democracy What resources do fiction narrative and poetic language supply in the age of the remains of the death penalty Following a lucid account of Derrida's approach to the death penalty Kamuf pursues this question across several literary texts In reading Orwell's story A Hanging Kamuf explores the relation between literary narration and the role of the witness concluding that such a witness needs the seal of literary language in order to account for the secret of the death penalty The next chapter turns to the American scene with Robert Coover's 1977 novel The Public Burning which restages the executions of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg as an outlandish public spectacle in Times Square Because this fictional device reverses the drive toward secrecy that beginning in the mid nineteenth century put an end to public executions in the West Kamuf reads the novel in a tension with the current tendency in the U S to shore up and protect remaining death penalty practices through increasingly pervasive secrecy measures A reading of Norman Mailer's 1979 novel The Executioner's Song shows the breakdown of any firm distinction between suicide and capital execution and explores the essential affinity between traditional narrative structure which is plotted from the end and the plot of a death penalty Final readings of Kafka Derrida and Baudelaire consider the relation between literature and law showing how performative literary language can play the law A brief conclusion titled Postmortem reflects on the condition of literature as that which survives the death penalty A major contribution to the field of law and society this book makes the case for literature as a space for contesting the death penalty a case that scholars and activists working across a range of traditions will need to confront
