Bruce Elder, 2018-06-30 Cubism and futurism were closely related movements that vied with each other in the economy of renown Perception dynamism and the dynamism of perception these were the issues that passed back and forth between the two Cubism and Futurism Spiritual Machines and the Cinematic Effect shows how movement became in the traditional visual arts a central factor with the advent of the cinema gone were the days when an artwork strived merely to lift experience out the realm of change and flow The cinema at this time was understood as an electric art akin to X rays coloured light and sonic energy In this book celebrated filmmaker and author Bruce Elder connects the dynamism that the cinema made an essential feature of the new artwork to the new science of electromagnetism Cubism is a movement on the cusp of the transition from the Cartesian world of standardized Cartesian coordinates and interchangeable machine parts to a Galvanic world of continuities and flows In contrast futurism embraced completely the emerging electromagnetic view of reality Cubism and Futurism examines the similarity and differences between the two movements engagement with the new science of energy and shows that the notion of energy made central to the new artwork by the cinema assumed a spiritual dimension as the cinema itself came to be seen as a pneumatic machine
