Field, Michael MacBride, 2017-09-25 Stories have great power This book attempts to harness that power to help students grow and develop as writers It argues that stories and narratives can be utilized in the composition classroom specifically first year composition FYC to break down barriers Throughout a given semester stories and narratives can help students in composition courses to overcome academic personal and creative barriers establishing a space for developing as writers and thinkers Providing theoretical approaches practical methods and implications for using stories in FYC this book explores the versatility of stories as teaching tools Writing Guide with Handbook Michelle Bachelor Robinson, Maria Jerskey, Toby Fulwiler, 2021-12-14 Writing Guide with Handbook aligns to the goals topics and objectives of many first year writing and composition courses It is organized according to relevant genres and focuses on the writing process effective writing practices or strategies including graphic organizers writing frames and word banks to support visual learning and conventions of usage and style The text includes an editing and documentation handbook which provides information on grammar and mechanics common usage errors and citation styles Writing Guide with Handbook breaks down barriers in the field of composition by offering an inviting and inclusive approach to students of all intersectional identities To meet this goal the text creates a reciprocal relationship between everyday rhetoric and the evolving world of academia Writing Guide with Handbook builds on students life experiences and their participation in rhetorical communities within the familiar contexts of personal interaction and social media The text seeks to extend these existing skills by showing students how to construct a variety of compelling compositions in a variety of formats situations and contexts The authors conceived and developed Writing Guide with Handbook in 2020 its content and learning experiences reflect the instructional societal and individual challenges students have faced The authors invite students and instructors to practice invitational discussions even as they engage in verbal and written argument Instructors will be empowered to emphasize meaning and voice and to teach empathy as a rhetorical strategy Students will be empowered to negotiate their identities and their cultures through language as they join us in writing discovering learning and creating This is an adaptation of Writing Guide with Handbook by OpenStax You can access the textbook as pdf for free at openstax.org Minor editorial changes were made to ensure a better ebook reading experience This is an open educational resources OER textbook for university and college students Textbook content produced by OpenStax is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License Reconnecting Reading and Writing

Alice S. Horning, Elizabeth W. Kraemer, 2013-09-06 Reconnecting Reading and Writing explores the ways in which reading can and should have a strong role in the teaching of writing in college. Reconnecting Reading and Writing draws on broad perspectives from history and international work to show how and why reading should be reunited with writing in college and high school classrooms. It presents an overview of relevant research on reading and how it can best be used to support and enhance writing instruction.

Doing Time, Writing Lives Patrick W. Berry, 2018 Doing Time Writing Lives offers a much needed analysis of the teaching of college writing in U S prisons a racialized space that despite housing more than 2.2 million people remains nearly invisible to the general public. Through the examination of a college in prison program that promotes the belief that higher education in prison can reduce recidivism and improve life prospects for the incarcerated and their families author Patrick W. Berry exposes not only incarcerated students hopes and dreams for their futures but also their anxieties about whether education will help them. Beginning by exploring the need to move beyond narratives of hope when discussing literacy initiatives within prisons Berry then illustrates how teachers and students frequently hold on to different beliefs about literacy and its power in the world. After discussing the possibilities and limitations of professional writing courses in prisons the author argues that we need to pay greater attention to teachers and their motivations in prison education initiatives. Finally he offers a case study of one formerly imprisoned student who uses writing in his current life and how this does and does not connect with what he learned in his prison education program. Combining case studies and interviews with the author's own personal experiences teaching writing in prison Doing Time Writing Lives chronicles how incarcerated students attempt to write themselves back into a society that has erased their lived histories. It challenges polarizing rhetoric often used to describe what literacy can and cannot deliver suggesting more nuanced and ethical ways of understanding literacy and possibility in an age of mass incarceration.

Does Religious Education Matter? Mary Shanahan, 2016-07-28 In the current climate and in an age of increasing hostility towards religion and the study of religion religious education is a much debated area Bringing together an interdisciplinary team of contributors from the USA Britain and Ireland and Australia representing a variety of religious perspectives Does Religious Education Matter provocatively demonstrates that it is vital that religious education is presented as it really is a valuable and rich resource that when taught and engaged with appropriately stimulates essential qualities for global and responsible citizenship critical thinking tolerance respect and mutual understanding

Fostering Habits of Mind in Today's Students Jennifer Fletcher, Adela Najarro, Hetty Yelland, 2023-07-03 Co published with and Students need more than just academic skills for success in college and career and the lack of an explicit instructional focus on the soft skills critical to postsecondary success poses a challenge for many students who enter college especially the underprepared Based upon a multi campus cross disciplinary collaboration this book presents the resulting set of habits of mind based strategies that demonstrably help not only low income ESL and first generation college students overcome obstacles on the path to degree completion these strategies equally benefit all students They promote life long integrative learning and foster intellectual qualities such as curiosity openness flexibility engagement and persistence that are the key to developing internalized and transferrable competencies that are seldom given direct attention in college classrooms This contributed volume written with full time and adjunct faculty in mind provides the rationale for this pedagogical approach and presents the sequential instructional cycle that begins by identifying students assets and progressively focusing on specific habits to develop their capacity to transfer their learning to new tasks and situations Faculty from both two year and four year colleges provide examples of how they implement these practices in English math and General Education courses and demonstrate the applicability of these practices across course types and disciplines Chapters address key factors of college success including The link between habits of mind and student retention and achievement Using an assets based approach to teaching and learning Supporting and engaging students Creating inclusive learning communities Building confidence and self efficacy Promoting transfer of learning Teacher networks and cross disciplinary collaboration By foregrounding habits of mind as an instructional lens this book makes a unique contribution to teaching in developmental and general education settings Writing Effective

Course Assignments Elia Shabani Mligo, 2017-05-11 Non degree and undergraduate students are both inexperienced essay writers who need close guidance to become effective writers One of the puzzles which they encounter at the college and university after reporting for studies is the course assignments offered to them by their lecturers which demand them to be critical thinkers and argumentative essay writers In most colleges and universities lecturers provide to students broad questions to answer in the form of essays either in group or individual assignments How should they turn the broad assignment questions provided to them by their lecturers into specific researchable topics for essays How should they handle literature in order to obtain valuable information to answer the provided question How should they construct an informed and convincing argument using the collected information as evidence This book concerns these and other related questions With its clear illustrations the book is designed to be a self study guide and to offer solutions to many struggling students in colleges and universities At the same time the book can be helpful for lecturers to instruct their students how to write effective course assignments in their respective courses The Norton Field Guide to Writing Richard H Bullock, 2021-10

The most flexible rhetoric for a first year writing course and every writing student The Norton Field Guide lets instructors teach the way they want to teach and helps students write in the way that works best for them In the Sixth Edition new coauthor Deborah Bertsch shows students how to adapt their writing to new rhetorical situations with three new chapters Remixes Explorations and Reflecting on Your Writing More inclusive than ever the new edition features thirty new readings including seventeen written by students that offer fresh and inspiring sources for writing New videos and interactive activities in InQuizitive for Writers reveal multiple ways to understand and apply the book's advice and are complemented by new instructor resources that respond to today's teaching challenges Teaching Information Literacy and Writing Studies

Grace Veach, 2018-09-15 This volume edited by Grace Veach explores leading approaches to foregrounding information literacy in first year college writing courses Chapters describe cross disciplinary efforts underway across higher education as well as innovative approaches of both writing professors and librarians in the classroom This seminal work unpacks the disciplinary implications for information literacy and writing studies as they encounter one another in theory and practice during a time when fact or truth is less important than fitting a predetermined message Topics include reading and writing through the lens of information literacy curriculum design specific writing tasks transfer and assessment Charitable

Writing Richard Hughes Gibson, James Edward Beitler, 2020-12-15 How might we love God and our neighbors through the task of writing This book offers a vision for expressing one's faith through writing and for understanding writing itself as a spiritual practice that cultivates virtue Drawing on authors and artists throughout the church's history we learn how we might embrace writing as an act of discipleship for today Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian

Barnard,2014-07-15 In Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard argues that composition still retains the bulk of instructional practices that were used in the decades before poststructuralist theory discredited them While acknowledging that some of the foundational insights of poststructuralist theory can be difficult to translate to the classroom Barnard upends several especially intransigent tenets that continue to influence the teaching of writing and how students are encouraged to understand writing Using six major principles of writing classrooms and textbooks clarity intent voice ethnography audience and objectivity Barnard looks at the implications of poststructuralist theory for pedagogy While suggesting some evocative poststructuralist pedagogical practices the author focuses on diagnosing the fault lines of composition's refusal of poststructuralism rather than on providing solutions in the form of teaching templates Upsetting Composition Commonplaces addresses the need to more effectively engage in poststructuralist concepts in composition in an accessible and engaging voice that will advance the conversation about relations between the theory and teaching of writing

Conceding Composition Ryan Skinnell,2016-09-01 First year composition became the most common course in American higher education not because it could fix underprepared student writers but because it has historically served significant institutional interests That is it can be conceded in multiple ways to help institutions solve political promotional and financial problems Conceding Composition is a wide ranging historical examination of composition's evolving institutional value in American higher education over the course of nearly a century Based on extensive archival research conducted at six American universities and using the specific cases of institutional mission regional accreditation and federal funding this study demonstrates that administrators and faculty have introduced reformed maintained threatened or eliminated composition as part of negotiations related to nondisciplinary institutional exigencies Viewing composition from this perspective author Ryan Skinnell raises new questions about why composition exists in the university how it exists and how teachers and scholars might productively reconceive first year composition in light of its institutional functions The book considers the rhetorical political organizational institutional and promotional options conceding composition opened up for institutions of higher education and considers what the first year course and the discipline might look like with composition's transience reimagined not as a barrier but as a consummate institutional value The Norton Field Guide to Writing, with Readings and Handbook Richard Harvey Bullock, Maureen Daly Goggin, Francine Weinberg,2009-11-24 The most successful new rhetoric in a generation with a reader and a handbook everything students need in one book The Norton Field Guide to Writing, 5e with Access Card Including the Little Seagull Handbook, 3e EBook + Inquizitive Richard Bullock, Maureen Daly Goggin, Francine Weinberg, Michal Brody,2019-05-15
