Stand Still Like the Hummingbird Henry Miller, 2014-06-10 One of Henry Miller's most luminous statements of his personal philosophy of life Stand Still Like the Hummingbird provides a symbolic title for this collection of stories and essays Many of them have appeared only in foreign magazines while others were printed in small limited editions which have gone out of print Miller's genius for comedy is at its best in Money and How It Gets That Way a tongue in cheek parody of economics provoked by a postcard from Ezra Pound which asked if he ever thought about money His deep concern for the role of the artist in society appears in An Open Letter to All and Sundry and in The Angel is My Watermark he writes of his own passionate love affair with painting The Immorality of Morality is an eloquent discussion of censorship Some of the stories such as First Love are autobiographical and there are portraits of friends such as Patchen Man of Anger and Light and essays on other writers such as Walt Whitman Thoreau Sherwood Anderson and Ionesco Taken together these highly readable pieces reflect the incredible vitality and variety of interests of the writer who extended the frontiers of modern literature with Tropic of Cancer and other great books Stand Still Like the Hummingbird Henry Miller, 1962 Collection of stories and essays Into the Heart of Life Henry Miller, 2014-08-30 In celebration of the centennial of his birth Into the Heart of Life Henry Miller at One Hundred gathers a captivating selection of writings from ten of his books The delights of his prose are many not the least of which is Miller's comic irony which as The London Times noted can be as stringent and urgent as Swift's Frederick Turner has organized the whole to highlight the autobiographical chronology of Miller's life and along the way places the author squarely where he belongs in the great tradition of American radical individualism as a child of Emerson Thoreau and Whitman Miller who joyously declared I am interested like God only in the individual would have been pleased The keynotes here are self liberation and the pleasures of Miller's knotty cross grained genius as Turner describes it defying classification ultimately unamenable to any vision any program not his own Or as Henry Miller himself put it I am the hero and the book is myself Roots and Routes: Poetics at New College of California Patrick James Dunagan, Marina Lazzara, Nicholas James Whittington, 2020-10-06 Roots and Routes gathers essays talks interviews statements notes and other prose writings by poets who studied and or taught at the New College of California's Masters in Poetics program over the course of its nearly 30 year existence The collection evokes a much needed anti hierarchical even anarchic pedagogy in poetry poetics and the literary arts and is part of a general reevaluation of standard higher education models on Creative Writing As such it will appeal to a wide range of students and scholars interested in America's recent literary history as well as to poets outside the academy and the general reader interested in US poetry and poetics The Mindful Traveler Jim D. Currie, Jim Currie, 2000 Currie helps the reader structure journal writing around eight Buddhist archetypes that offer specific skills for problem solving and spiritual progress Illustrations with tables and charts

No Fear Zen Richard Collins, 2015-05-18 No Fear Zen presents an approach to Zen practice that focuses on concentration and sitting shikantaza as a discipline that can be practiced in everyday life with the dedication of the samurai And in a world that requires bravery and decisive action in addition to generosity and compassion we can learn much from the now extinct samural in creating a new kind of warrior for peace in the twenty first century While some practices focus on compassion and mindfulness as the goals of Zen practice No Fear Zen contends that these are outcomes that occur naturally spontaneously and automatically from right practice without any goal or object whatsoever In this way No Fear Zen is the sequel to the author's edition of Deshimaru's Mushotoku Mind which encouraged practice for one purpose only the purpose of no purpose the gain of no gain the profit of no profit The brief Zen talks that constitute the core of the book continue the tradition of spontaneous oral teachings delivered by the teacher or roshi during zazen The collection might remind some of the classic Zen Mind Beginner's Mind since the talks can serve either as an introduction to those beginning practice or as a manual for those interested in a structured approach to Zen practice. The tone of the talks ranges from humorous and informal to penetrating and philosophical with references to day to day issues we all face as well as to works of literature For example several essays instruct in how to sit how to manage mind and emotions while others roam into difficult arenas like the author's experience in bringing zazen instruction to those incarcerated in a federal penitentiary As a professor of arts and humanities Dr Collins uses great literature like Shakespeare's Hamlet to demonstrate his case for fearless action uncomplicated by over thinking The collection ends with a sustained commentary on the twenty one deathbed teachings of the samurai Miyamoto Musashi to his student Terao Magonojo This provides a suitable conclusion to the work which has focused on concentration and discipline for their own sake with the result of dispelling fear of death and fear of life As the author's teacher Robert Livingston always said coming to zazen was like climbing into your coffin but after zazen there was Catalog of Copyright Entries.
