Livingston, Andrew Cutrofello, 2015-12-08 This accessible new book provides a clear and wide-ranging introduction to the defining problems of contemporary philosophy. Its unique feature is to focus on problems that cut across the established divide between analytic and continental philosophical traditions. Instead of segregating the two traditions as is usually done the authors offer a critical orientation and guide for readers who are not exclusively affiliated with either approach and who want to understand the increasingly shared questions philosophers are asking and addressing today. Each chapter starts with a fundamental overarching question: 1 What and how can we know? 2 What is the structure of the world? 3 What goes beyond the physical world? 4 What is to be done? 5 What does it mean to orient oneself philosophically? Under these headings the authors critically examine the disciplines' most fundamental problems. Their approach reveals deep and unexpected connections across the analytic/continental divide and opens up new ways of thinking about critique itself. No other book about contemporary philosophy is as comprehensive and cosmopolitan The Problems of Contemporary Philosophy provides newcomers and seasoned philosophers alike with an entertaining engaging and far reaching portrait of todays philosophical landscape It is an exemplary instance of thinking across and beyond the analytic continental divide The Oxford Handbook of Psychotherapy Ethics Manuel Trachsel,Nikola Biller-Andorno,Jens Gaab,Şerife Tekin,John Z. Kiarina Kordela, 2017-10-06 A Kiarina Kordela steps beyond extant commentaries on Marx's theory of commodity fetishism from A Sohn Rethel to L Althusser Balibar Slavoj Žižek and others to show that in capitalism value is the manifestation of the homology between thought and being while their other aspect power is foreclosed and becomes the object of biopower Using monistic Marxian Lacanian structuralism as an alternative to dominant models from Plato and Kant to phenomenological accounts deconstruction and other contemporary approaches Kordela expertly argues that Marx's theory of commodity fetishism is a reformulation of the Spinozian thesis that thought mind and things bodies or extension are manifestations of one and the same being or substance Kordela's link between Spinoza and Marx shows that being consists of two aspects value and power the former leading to structuralist thought the latter becoming the object of contemporary biopower Epistemontology in Spinoza Marx Freud Lacan intervenes between two dominant lines of thought in the reception of Marx today on the one hand an approach that relates Marxian thought to psychoanalysis from a Hegelian dialectical perspective and on the other hand an approach that links Marxism to Spinozian

Linking Game-Theoretical Approaches with Constructive Type Theory

Nicolas Clerbout,Shahid Rahman,2015-07-08 This title links two of the most dominant research streams in philosophy of logic namely game theory and proof theory As the work s subtitle expresses the authors will build this link by means of the dialogical approach to logic One important aspect of the present study is that the authors restrict themselves to the logically valid fragment of Constructive Type Theory CTT The reason is that once that fragment is achieved the result can be extended to cover the whole CTT system The first chapters in the brief offer overviews on the two frameworks discussed in the book with an emphasis on the dialogical framework The third chapter demonstrates the left to right direction of the equivalence result This is followed by a chapter that demonstrates the use of the algorithm in showing how to transform a specific winning strategy into a CCT demonstration of the axiom of choice The fifth chapter develops the algorithm from CTT demonstrations to dialogical strategies This brief concludes by introducing elements of discussion which are to be developed in subsequent work

Hanscom, Dennis

Washburn, 2016-05-31 The Affect of Difference is a collection of essays offering a new perspective on the history of race and racial ideologies in modern East Asia Contributors approach this subject through the exploration of everyday culture from a range of academic disciplines each working to show how race was made visible and present as a potential means of identification By analyzing artifacts from diverse media including travelogues records of speech photographs radio broadcasts surgical techniques tattoos anthropometric postcards fiction the popular press film and soundtracks an archive that chronicles the quotidian experiences of the colonized their essays shed light on the politics of inclusion and exclusion that underpinned Japanese empire One way this volume sets itself apart is in its use of affect as a key analytical category Colonial politics depended heavily on the sentiments and moods aroused by media representations of race and authorities promoted strategies that included the colonized as imperial subjects while simultaneously excluding them on the basis of natural differences Chapters demonstrate how this dynamic operated by showing the close attention of empire to intimate matters including language dress sexuality family and hygiene The focus on affect elucidates the representational logic of both imperialist and racist discourses by providing a way to talk about inequalities that are not clear cut to show gradations of power or shifts in definitions of normality that are otherwise difficult to discern and to present a finely grained perspective on everyday life under racist empire It also alerts us to the subtle often unseen ways in which imperial or racist affects may operate beyond the reach of our methodologies Taken together the essays in this volume bring the case of Japanese empire into comparative proximity with other imperial situations and contribute to a deeper more sophisticated understanding of the role that race has played in East Asian empire
