

Standard Costs and Balanced Scorecard

- Standards are common in business.
- Standards established internally by a company may extend to personnel matters, such as employee absenteeism and ethical codes of conduct, quality control standards for products, and standard costs for goods and services.
- In managerial accounting, standard costs are predetermined unit costs, which companies use as measures of performance.
- standard costs also apply to many types of service businesses as well.
- For example, Not-for-profit entities, such as universities, charitable organizations, and governmental agencies, also may use standard costs as measures of performance.

Ques: How will the creation of such standards help a business or organization?

Advantages of Standard Costs:

- Facilitate management planning.
- Promote greater economy by making employees more "cost-conscious"
- Useful in setting selling prices
- Contribute to management control by providing basis for evaluation of cost control
- Useful in highlighting variances in management by exception
- Simplify costing of inventories and reduce clerical costs

The organization will realize these advantages only when standard costs are carefully established and prudently used. Using standards as a way to place blame can have a negative effect on managers and employees. To minimize this effect, many companies offer wage incentives to those who meet the standards.

Distinguishing Between Standards and Budgets

- Both standards and budgets are predetermined costs, and both contribute to management planning and control.
- There is a difference, however, in the way the terms are expressed.
- A standard is a unit amount. A budget is a total amount.
- For example, the standard cost of direct labor for a unit of product is, say, $10. If the company produces 5,000 units of the product, the $50,000 of direct labor is the budgeted labor cost.
- Therefore, a standard is the budgeted cost per unit of product.
- A standard is therefore concerned with each individual cost component that makes up the entire budget.

Williams, 2006 Sustainable Finance, Digitalization and the Role of Technology Bahaaeddin Alareeni, Allam Hamdan, 2022-07-13 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the International Conference on Business and Technology (ICBT2021) organized by EuroMid Academy of Business Technology (EMABT) held in Istanbul between 06-07 November 2021. In response to the call for papers for ICBT2021, 485 papers were submitted for presentation and inclusion in the proceedings of the conference. After a careful blind refereeing process, 292 papers were selected for inclusion in the conference proceedings from forty countries. Each of these chapters was evaluated through an editorial board, and each chapter was passed through a double-blind peer review process. The book highlights a range of topics in the fields of technology, entrepreneurship, business administration, accounting, and economics that can contribute to business development in countries such as learning machines, artificial intelligence, big data, deep learning, game-based learning, management information systems, accounting information systems, knowledge management, entrepreneurship, and social enterprise. Corporate social responsibility and sustainability, business policy and strategic management, international management, and organizations, organizational behavior, and HRM, operations management, and logistics research, controversial issues in management, and organizations, turnaround, corporate entrepreneurship, innovation, legal issues, business ethics, and firm governance, managerial accounting, and firm financial affairs, non-traditional research, and creative methodologies. These proceedings are reflecting quality research contributing theoretical and practical implications for those who are wise to apply the technology within any business sector. It is our hope that the contribution of this book's proceedings will be of the academic level, which even decision makers in the various economic and executive level will get to appreciate. Wiley CPA
