Vision And Visual Perception The Conscious Base Of Seeing:

Vision and Visual Perception Duco A. Schreuder, 2014-12-03 Vision is about insight and visual perception is about cognition and they form the foundation of how we see the world Duco A Schreuder a physicist and psychologist explores the finer details of each in this groundbreaking book that explores human consciousness and perception Sharing virtually everything he s learned over a varied career spanning more than sixty years he examines a wide array of topics including how we understand what we visually process how we store and retrieve information the role that neurons play in how what we see and much more While Schreuder isn t afraid to disagree with other leading thinkers he relies on science and focuses on the facts behind it so you can understand lighting visual perception engineering design and applied and experimental physics Looking is about insight whereas seeing is about knowledge and you need to know how each one works to truly understand how humanity views the world Whether you re an illuminating engineer considering the fundamentals of the trade or a student or professional in an allied discipline you ll be well served by taking a closer look at Vision and Visual Perception

Documenting Syria Josepha Ivanka Wessels, 2019-07-11 Syria is now one of the most important countries in the world for the documentary film industry Since the 1970s Syrian cinema masters played a defining role in avant garde filmmaking and political dissent against authoritarianism After the outbreak of violence in 2011 an estimated 500 000 video clips were uploaded making it one of the first YouTubed revolutions in history This book is the first history of documentary filmmaking in Syria Based on extensive media ethnography and in depth interviews with Syrian filmmakers in exile the book offers an archival analysis of the documentary work by masters of Syrian cinema such as Nabil Maleh Ossama Mohammed Mohammed Malas Hala Al Abdallah Hanna Ward Ali Atassi and Omar Amiralay Joshka Wessels traces how the works of these filmmakers became iconic for a new generation of filmmakers at the beginning of the 21st century and maps the radical change in the documentary landscape after the revolution of 2011 Special attention is paid to the late Syrian filmmaker and pro democracy activist Bassel Shehadeh and the video resistance from Aleppo and Raqqa against the regime of President Bashar al Assad and the Islamic State An essential resource for scholars of Syrian Studies this book will also be highly relevant to the fields of media conflict research anthropology and political science

Alhacen's Theory of Visual Perception Alhazen,A. Mark Smith,2001 Sometime between 1028 and 1038 Ibn al Haytham completed his monumental optical synthesis Kitab al Manazir Book of Optics By no later than 1200 and perhaps somewhat earlier this treatise appeared in Latin under the title De aspectibus In that form it was attributed to a certain Alhacen These differences in title and authorial designation are indicative of the profound differences between the two versions Arabic and Latin of the treatise In many ways in fact they can be regarded not simply as different versions of the same work but as different works in their own right Accordingly the Arab author Ibn al Haytham and his Latin incarnation Alhacen represent two distinct sometimes even conflicting interpretive voices And the same holds for their respective texts To complicate matters Alhacen does not represent a single interpretive voice There were at least two translators at work on the Latin text one of them adhering faithfully to the Arabic original the other content with distilling even paraphrasing the Arabic original Consequently the Latin text presents not one but at least two faces to the reader This two volume critical edition represents fourteen years of work on Dr Smith's part Awarded the 2001 J F Lewis Award

Vision beyond Visual Perception Borko Kovačević,Ian Richards,Junichi Toyota,2017-05-11 Vision is crucial for the survival of all animals However as this book shows its importance does not simply lie in visual perception but is rather deeply rooted in human physiology psychology and culture For instance conceptual metaphors often involve vision such as Seeing is Touching and Eyes are Limbs among others However this Anglo centric linguistic view belies the fact that vision is not a universally preferred source for metaphor and less studied languages spoken in the four corners of the world can present cases that are unfamiliar to those who are only acquainted with Indo European languages and cultures In fact other types of perception such as hearing are often preferred as a source of comprehension in a number of languages This volume studies various issues concerning vision both synchronically and diachronically Its discussion involves specialists from different disciplines ranging from cognitive science to literary scholarship It also covers a wide range of geographical regions such as Africa and Asia As such this volume will serve to shed light on the integration of disciplines concerning vision Projections of the

Consciousness Waldo Vieira,2021-03-11 The facts narrated here continue to be experienced by billions of people every night as they have ever since antiquity The difference now is that communication of these experiences is increasing with every year that passes without the folkloric and mystical connotations which have been attached to them for thousands of years Neural Correlates of Consciousness Thomas Metzinger,2000 This book brings together an international group of neuroscientists and philosophers who are investigating how the content of subjective experience is correlated with events in the brain The fundamental methodological problem in consciousness research is the subjectivity of the target phenomenon the fact that conscious experience under standard conditions is always tied to an individual first person perspective The core empirical question is whether and how physical states of the human nervous system can be mapped onto the content of conscious experience The search for the neural correlates of consciousness NCC has become a highly active field of investigation in recent years Methods such as single cell recording in monkeys and brain imaging and electrophysiology in humans applied to such phenomena as blindsight implicit explicit cognition and binocular rivalry have generated a wealth of data The same period has seen the development of a number of theories about NCC location This volume brings together the leading experimentalists and theoreticians in the field Topics include foundational and evolutionary issues global integration vision consciousness and the NMDA receptor complex neuroimaging implicit processes intentionality and phenomenal volition schizophrenia social cognition and the phenomenal self Contributors Jackie Andrade Ansgar Beckermann David J Chalmers Francis Crick Antonio R Damasio Gerald M Edelman Dominic ffytche Hans Flohr N P Franks Vittorio Gallese Melvyn A Goodale Valerie Gray Hardcastle Beena Khurana Christof Koch W R Lieb Erik D Lumer Thomas Metzinger Kelly J Murphy Romi Nijhawan Jo lle Proust Antti Revonsuo Gerhard Roth Thomas Schmidt Wolf Singer Giulio Tononi

Postcinematic Vision Roger F. Cook,2020-03-10 A study of how film has continually intervened in our sense of perception with far ranging insights into the current state of lived experience How has cinema transformed our senses and how does it continue to do so Positing film as a stage in the long coevolution of human consciousness and visual technology Postcinematic Vision offer a fresh perspective on the history of film while providing startling new insights into the so called divide between cinematic and digital media Starting with the argument that film viewing has long altered neural circuitry in our brains Roger F Cook proceeds to reevaluate film s origins as well as its merger with digital imaging in the 1990s His animating argument is that film has continually altered the relation between media and human perception challenging the visual nature of modern culture in favor of a more unified pan sensual way of perceiving Through this approach he makes original contributions to our understanding of how mediation is altering lived experience Along the way Cook provides important reevaluations of well known figures such as Franz Kafka closely reading cinematic passages in the great author s work he reassesses the conventional wisdom that Marshall McLuhan was a technological determinist and he lodges an original new reading of The Matrix Full of provocative and far reaching ideas Postcinematic Vision is a powerful work that helps us see old concepts anew while providing new ideas for future investigation The Secrets in Their Eyes Melvin Kaplan,2015-05-21
