Raising the Impact of Education Research in Africa Charl C. Wolhuter, 2018-12-01 The low demonstrable effect of education research done in South Africa in particular and Africa in general continues to be a problem in scientific records in the educational sciences This scholarly collected work addresses this obstacle and focuses on recommendations from scholars in different sectorial categories in the field of education. Scholars from a variety of sub fields within the educational sciences reflect on this particular matter revisiting the history of research and research outcomes and offering informed recommendations based on in depth investigation and analysis of aspects of the various discourses within the relevant sub fields. The scope of the content of this collected work centres on the issue of the lack of scientific records concerning the scientific raising of the impact of education research. The book aims at making a specific contribution to the educational sciences by stimulating scholarly discussion around how to increase the recording of the significance of educational research done in Africa and in South Africa in particular and to redirect the research agenda into the direction of making more impact. Impact is conceptualised to mean both scholarly impact that is being cited and being used as foundation for theory building and for further research and practical impact that is improvement of practice teaching and learning in education institutions at all levels.

The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education Mabel Ann Brown, 2017-08-15. The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education explores how increasing migration and population changes are having an unprecedented impact on global education. Given that the number of children of migrant background is growing internationally there is a need for increasing awareness of the educational attainment and cultural integration of this population group. This book presents international perspectives on migration and youth and analyses what kinds of effects such demographic changes are having on educational systems around the world. The chapters in this volume provide a fascinating insight into how countries around the world are dealing with loss or growth in their young population as well as changes to their education systems. Written by specialist academics from the relevant country the book covers Cuba, Lithuania, the United Kingdom, the United States, Finland, Greece, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Latvia, China, Australia, India, Italy and Poland. Taking into consideration the countries' social and political context, the chapters discuss educational issues surrounding curriculum assessment and the opportunities available for the support of young people. Conclusions are drawn about what could be done in the future for the benefit of both the migrant and the existing populations. The Shifting Global World of Youth and Education will be of great interest to academics, researchers and postgraduate students in the disciplines of education, sociology, political sciences and social work. The book will also give secondary teachers, teaching assistants, social workers and youth workers the opportunity to reflect on their role within a national and international context.

Race for Education Mark Hunter, 2019-01-24. An examination of families and schools in South Africa revealing how the marketisation of schooling works to uphold the privilege of whiteness.

Educational Technology and Polycontextual Bridging Eyvind Elstad, 2016-08-18. Technology has become ubiquitous in nearly every contemporary situation while digital media have acquired considerable importance in the lives of young people. Alongside their interest in digital media, schooling constitutes a core component of the life of children and adolescents. Youth's use of digital media creates tensions between traditions and expectations of renewal within the school. The once sharp divide between school and leisure time is eroding How will the school as an institution relate to this comprehensive process of change known as the digital revolution How can the school build a bridge between the world of youth and school material to enable students to learn in a new digital age This endeavor is named polycontextual bridging in this book What are the good examples of polycontextual bridging What novel educational goals can be achieved by net related activities when incorporated into the school and how can out of school learning be successfully framed by educational purposes These questions are addressed from different perspectives by several scholars in this book The chapters in this volume offer the most thorough up to date discussion on the challenges of technology use in school education In tackling the critical issues created by technology this book provides an important resource for student teachers teachers education scholars and those interested in a critical examination of digital expectations and experiences in school education This book is motivated by a pressing need to come to grips with the dilemmas caused by an apparent clash of learning cultures in the individual classroom in the schools in the education of teachers and in the institutions of teacher education The book is also a tribute to Gavriel Salomon and his research on the cognitive effects of media s symbol systems media and learning and the design of cognitive tools and technology afforded learning environments The book also contains his masterpiece It s not just the tool but the educational rationale that counts Further three internationally recognized experts Howard Gardner David Perkins and Daniel Bar Tal describe Salomon s remarkable academic contributions This book is an attempt to explicate illustrate and critically examine the idea of polycontextual bridging between youth s leisure cultures and school material to enable students to learn in a new digital age The authors do not present a common front on the complex question of the proper use of information and communication technology in the school but instead present a diversity of arguments and viewpoints The book is an attempt to raise questions and start a debate Annual Report South Africa.
