Northlanders feel pinch of high food prices despite rate cut

Jeremy Ling

The cost of fruit and vegetables may have come down lately, and mortgage-lending rates may have been lowered, but many Northlanders are still struggling with the skyrocketing cost of living.

According to the latest Stats NZ figures, fruit and vegetable prices decreased 8.5% in the 12 months to July 2024, while meat, poultry and fish were down 1.1%.

Cheaper prices for kumara, lettuce and potatoes drove the fall in fruit and vegetable prices.

Kumara prices dropped to $0.72 per kilogram, almost one-third of the peak price of $14.25/kg in January.

Kerikeri resident Monica Welch, who provides food for struggling families, said she had noticed fruit and vegetables had come down in price, particularly seasonal vegetables like pumpkins, which "were very cheap".

"I can't say that for anything else," she said.

"People are still struggling with food and power.

"I'm on my oats and I can feed myself, but the other day I went to the supermarket to get a few things – four things came to $38."

Welch said other items that have significantly increased in price were meat and olive oil.

A 500ml bottle of olive oil was on special for $43, while other brands were $46 and $47, she said.

"You used to get a 500ml bottle for $20."

"On the whole, meat is still outrageous. I thought to myself, 'How are people doing this with children?'"

The recently released Stats NZ figures show overall food prices in New Zealand increased 0.6% in the 12 months to July 2024.

This was partly driven by higher prices for restaurant meals and ready-to-eat food, which increased 3.7%.

Said Angela Charitable Trust founder Theresa Wickham, whose charity helps vulnerable Far North families, said residents across the board were noticing fluctuating food prices.

Wickham said her colleagues went to the supermarket this week and saw a packet of butter priced at $20.

Wickham also popped in to pick up a few things and noticed avocados and broccoli were "a reasonable price".

"But it's going to take more than avocados being two for $2 or $2 for broccoli to make a big change in a family's food budget."

Wickham said the charity was getting "far more" referrals for support than they've ever had.

"It's the cost of living and everything that goes with that.

"We are dealing with some of the more vulnerable whānau in the community via our partners, and that's who we've been to support."

"We're hearing stories of whānau
