Surface Force Training Manual 201:

Navy Comptroller Manual United States. Navy Department. Office of the Comptroller, 1990 An Examination of Options to Reduce Underway Training Days Through the Use of Simulation Roland J. Yardley, 2008 U S Navy surface combatant ship crew training involves a combination of shore based onboard pier side and underway training Underway training is expensive however and it increases wear and tear on operating equipment Furthermore constrained budgets and increasing recapitalization costs have forced the Navy to examine various methods such as increased use of simulators to reduce the annual operating costs of the fleet Technological improvements have increased the fidelity and realism of simulators and simulation is being used more widely for training within the U S Navy in other navies and in commercial shipping companies Although the Navy s surface combatant community currently uses simulators in its training regimen an increased use of simulation could potentially improve training efficiency sustain training readiness and reduce underway days Focusing on the DDG 51 Arleigh Burke class of surface combatants RAND examines the training requirements of surface forces determines where credit is granted for the use of simulation estimates what training is done underway examines simulation technology and identifies areas where simulation could be substituted for underway training without any decrease in readiness The authors find that although most exercises are done underway many could be done in port with or without the use of simulators Accordingly the Navy should consider 1 investing in shore based engineering simulators 2 directing that exercises that can be done in port be done in port and 3 accelerating the upgrades that are slowly providing DDG 51 class ships with an embedded engineering training capability publisher s website Navy Staff Officer's Guide Dale C Rielage, 2022-11-15 Continuing the tradition of Naval Institute Blue and Gold series classics such as Command at Sea and the Watch Officer's Guide the Navy Staff Officer's Guide will equip naval leaders for success in the challenging professional environment of a Navy staff Navy staffs build and equip the Navy plan its future and guide its current operations During a staff tour a savvy Navy leader can have positive reach beyond the lifelines of a single command with impact across the fleet and years into the future Staff duty emphasizes a different set of tools from those typically employed in sea duty billets It has its own formal and informal expectations and its own opportunities challenges and pitfalls This guide provides and explains those tools and marks the shoals that can wreck the unaware enabling both new and seasoned staff officers to be prepared for the unique requirements of staff duty Through extensive use of historical examples and sea stories it introduces the reader to why staffs exist how they impact the Navy and how they can offer both professional development and meaningful accomplishment Recognizing that Navy staffs vary in their purposes and organization The Navy Staff Officer's Guide synthesizes those differences into meaningful guidance for all staff officers civilians and Sailors whether assigned to a destroyer squadron staff operating from a DDG or to the OPNAV staff in the Pentagon Effective coordination clear communication and an understanding of the commander and their mission are central to staff success and are clearly articulated In twenty three chapters covering the many aspects of Navy staff work including The Staff Command Triad Communicating as a Staff Officer Civilian Personnel Fleet Commands and the Maritime Operations Centers and TYCOMs and SYSCOMs Captain Rielage has covered the waterfront in Sailor speak with this comprehensive and readable guide Staffs may not win the fight but good staff work creates the conditions for victory before the first shot is fired This guide is the key to ensuring the success of Navy staffs and all those who serve them United States Navy Aviation Mechanics' Training System for Miscellaneous Maintenance Force United States Navy Gas Engine School, New York,1919 Fleet Readiness United States.
