The Alien Human Connection:

The Alien / Human Connection D. Leo Lund, 2014-10-26 This is a story of a young man from a terrible past who is bought back from the brink of death by a group of Aliens sent to Earth to investigate the continued existence of the human race on Earth. They have to perform an extremely controversial prosthetic surgery to save his life and then insert him into the world's intelligence community to spy on the world's superpowers. While doing this they find out something that brings the entire Galaxy to the brink of intergalactic war. Though this is probably a fictional account of what went on, it is still disturbingly thought provoking. I will leave the reader to draw their own conclusions.

Abduction: Human Encounters with Aliens Mack, 2009-12-15 A Harvard psychiatrist, the author of A Prince of Our Disorder, presents accounts of alien abduction taken from the more than sixty cases he has investigated and examines the implications for our identity as a species. These mesmerizing and thought provoking stories of alien encounters from a Harvard professor take you through actual case studies of people from all walks of life and ages who have had challenging, sometimes disturbing, and in every case life changing experiences of alien abduction. John Mack explores evidence of nonhuman intelligence like an attorney preparing for the trial of the century, interviewing witnesses, examining physical evidence, consulting with experts in related fields, constantly questioning his own assumptions. As a story of one man's determination to bear witness to cosmic mysteries with extraordinary implications for the human future, Abduction is bound to become a modern classic. Keith Thompson, author of Angels and Aliens.

Alien Connection A.J. Houston, 2012-11-26 Alien Connection is situated several hundred years into the future and is about an electrical engineer, Arthur Barthol, and his adventures after he is recruited to install communications equipment on the first space station which will act as a meeting ground for humans and aliens from other worlds. His travels take him beyond the limits of human experience and understanding while encountering alien existence he could hardly have imagined.

Myth-X Michelle Bush, 2008-07-25 This is an analysis of the sci-fi television show The X-Files, mytharc focusing on the use of mythological themes and symbols.

The Lure of the Edge Brenda Denzler, 2001-11-07 UFO phenomena entered American consciousness at the beginning of the Cold War when reports from astonished witnesses of encounters with unknown aerial objects captured the attention of the United States military and the imagination of the press and the public. But when UFOs appeared not to be hostile and when some scientists pronounced the sightings to be of natural meteorological phenomena, misidentified due to Cold War jitters, military interest declined sharply and with it further overt scientific interest. Yet sighting reports didn't stop and UFOs entered the public imagination as a cultural myth of the twentieth century. Brenda Denzler's comprehensive, clearly written and compelling narrative provides the first sustained overview and valuation of the UFO/alien abduction movement as a social phenomenon positioned between scientific and religious perspectives. Demonstrating the unique place ufology occupies in the twentieth century nexus between science and religion, Denzler surveys the sociological contours of its community, assesses its persistent attempt to achieve scientific legitimacy and concludes with an examination of the movement's metaphysical or spiritual outlook. Her book is a substantial contribution to our understanding of American popular culture and the boundaries of American religion and to the debate about the nature of science and religion. Denzler presents a thorough and fascinating history of the UFO abduction movement and traces the tensions between those who are deeply ambivalent about abduction narratives that seemingly erode their quest for scientific credibility and the growing cultural power of those who claim to have been abducted. She locates the phenomenon within the context of American religious history and using data gathered in surveys sheds new light on the social profile of these UFO communities. The Lure of the Edge succeeds brilliantly in repositioning a cultural phenomenon considered by many to be bizarre and marginal into a central debate about the nature of science, technology and the production of a modern myth.

Haunted Data Lisa Blackman, 2019-01-24 Haunted Data explores the concepts that are at work in our complex relationships with data. Our engagement with data, big or small, is never as simplistic or straightforward as might first appear. Indeed, Blackman argues that our relationship with data is haunted with errors, dead ends, ghostly figures and misunderstandings that challenge core assumptions about the nature of thought, consciousness, mind, cognition, affect, communication, control and rationality, both human and non-human. Using contemporary controversies from weird science including the field of priming and its uncanny relations to animal telepathy as well as artificial intelligences and their curious relation to psychic research, clairvoyant computers, Blackman shows how some of the current crises in science in these areas reveal more than scientists are willing or even able to acknowledge. In addition to proposing a new theory of how we might engage with data, Haunted Data also provides a nuanced survey of the historical context to contemporary debates going back to the 19th Century origins of modern computation and science to explain the ubiquity and oddness of our data relations. Drawing from radical philosophies of science, feminist science studies, queer theory, cultural studies and the field of affect studies, the book develops a manifesto for how artists, philosophers and scientists might engage creatively and critically with science within the context of digital communication.

Aliens in America Jodi Dean, 1998 Discusses the social and political implications of widespread belief in unidentified flying objects, extraterrestrials and government cover-ups and considers what they reveal in a culture of mass media and conflicting evidence.

Technosignatures for Detecting Intelligent Life in Our Universe Anamaria Berea, 2022-06-13 TECHNOSIGNATURES FOR DETECTING INTELLIGENT LIFE IN OUR UNIVERSE This book shows the current state of the research in the field of technosignatures, presenting novel ideas from economics, forecasting and data sciences, making it an ideal research compendium for scientists. The book summarizes the multiple interdisciplinary efforts that have contributed to the field of technosignatures. The technosignatures represent any signals that can be collected from the Universe such as radio wavelengths, optical signals and many more that can be potential candidates as signals emitted intentionally from another part of the Universe that is not Earth. It shows how current advances in science, technology and social sciences can support this effort and can be used as both a resource for the scientists in the field and as a reference for the public at large interested in the topic It includes novel research work from economics forecasting and data sciences fields as well as a deeper understanding of the role mass media and popular fiction has played in the evolution of this field Audience The book will interest both natural scientists astronomers and astrophysicists and social scientists economists as well as the new emerging data scientists Amateur astronomers will be attracted to the book as well Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 2013 Interspecies Communication Gavin Steingo, 2024-04-09 A surprising study reveals a plethora of attempts to communicate with non humans in the modern era In Interspecies Communication music scholar Gavin Steingo examines significant cases of attempted communication beyond the human cases in which the dualistic relationship of human to non human is dramatically challenged From singing whales to Sun Ra to searching for alien life Steingo charts the many ways we have attempted to think about and indeed to reach beings that are very unlike ourselves Steingo focuses on the second half of the twentieth century when scientists developed new ways of listening to oceans and cosmic space two realms previously inaccessible to the senses and to empirical investigation As quintessential frontiers of the postwar period the outer space of the cosmos and the inner space of oceans were conceptualized as parallel realities laid bare by newly technologized ears Deeply engaging Interspecies Communication explores our attempts to cross the border between the human and non human to connect with non humans in the depths of the oceans the far reaches of the universe or right under our own noses Screen Couple Chemistry Martha P. Nochimson, 2010-07-05 Astaire and Rogers Tracy and Hepburn Just the mention of their names evokes the powerful chemistry between these screen couples which utterly transcended the often formulaic films in which they appeared together Indeed watching the synergistic flow of energy between charismatic screen partners is one of the great pleasures of cinema and television as well as an important vehicle for thinking through issues of intimacy and gender relations In this book Martha P Nochimson engages in a groundbreaking study of screen couple chemistry She begins by classifying various types of couples to define what sets the synergistic couple apart from other onscreen pairings Then she moves into extended discussions of four enduring screen couples Maureen O Sullivan Johnny Weissmuller Myrna Loy William Powell Fred Astaire Ginger Rogers and Katharine Hepburn Spencer Tracy Using theories of neuroscience she demonstrates that their onscreen chemistry is a very real phenomenon powerful enough to subvert conventional formulations of male female relations Material she has uncovered in the infamous Production Code Administration files illuminates the historical context of her contentions Finally Nochimson traces the screen couple to its present day incarnation in such pairs as Woody Allen Diane Keaton Scully Mulder of The X Files and Cliff Claire Huxtable of The Cosby Show The Search for Home among Forced Migrants and Refugees Maria Sophia Aguirre, Antonio Argandoña, 2024-11-08 This book explores the role of home in the lives of displaced people including voluntary and forced migrants refugees asylum seekers internally displaced people and temporary workers

For displaced people home is something lost longed for and sometimes found anew It is a community of people in an environment of relationships and a physical dwelling that provide a sense of safety security hope and belonging Much of the efforts of refugees migrants and exiles are devoted to rebuilding a home through a combination of personal effort and collaboration with the political and social environment of the host community Aguirre and Argando a bring together an interdisciplinary collection of contributors to analyse these challenges through the lenses of economics law sociology psychology communications management and political science The book offers numerous suggestions for assistance aimed not only at the short term problems of displaced people but also at ensuring their human dignity This volume will be a valuable resource for students and scholars of the sociology of migration and of public policy related to the handling of migrants Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress.
