Zimsec Geography Paper 2 And Marking Sheme:

Climate Change and Agriculture in Zimbabwe Mark Matsa, 2020-09-03 This book proves through empirical research that indigenous and traditional agricultural communities have experienced severe climate change impacts and have developed corresponding livelihood strategies to strengthen their resilience in a variable climate. With a focus on indigenous minority farming communities in the developing region of South Western Zimbabwe, the study presents both qualitative and quantitative approaches of data analysis to assess sustainability problems amid climate change and climate variability challenges and proposes potential solutions. In eight chapters, the book expands on the scarce availability of community-based research on climate change and variability in Zimbabwe. The book is meant for college and university students and stakeholders involved in development work in rural minority farmer communities, especially in climate change-prone regions of Africa and other developing countries who have very few options of adaptation and mitigation. World Geography

Today Holt Rinehart & Winston, 2000 Catalogue of Periodicals and Newspapers in the Library of the Basler Afrika Bibliographien Basler Afrika Bibliographien, 1999 The Geography of Border Landscapes Dennis Rumley, Julian V. Minghi, 2014-10-03 This volume is about border landscapes with emphasis on the varying impact that political decision making and ideological differences can have on the environment at border locations, for example. This volume by political geography experts from across the globe provides important insights specifically into border landscapes and so serves to further our understanding of aspects of cultural landscapes. Resources in Education, 1994 African Refugees Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Jacob-Haliso, 2023-01-03 African Refugees is a comprehensive overview of the context, causes and consequences of refugee lives, discussing issues, policies and solutions for African refugees around the world. It covers overarching topics such as human rights, policy frameworks, refugee protection and durable solutions, as well as less studied topics such as refugee youths, refugee camps, LGBTQ refugees, urban refugees and refugee women. It also takes on rare but emergent topics such as citizenship and the creativity of African refugees. Toyin Falola and Olajumoke Jacob Haliso showcase the voices and experiences of individual refugees through the sweep of history to tell the African refugee story from the historical past through current developments, covering the full range of experience from the causes of flight to living in exile, all while maintaining a persistent focus on the complicated search for solutions. African Refugees recognizes African agency and contributions in pursuit of solutions for African refugees over time but avoids the pitfalls of the colonial gaze where refugees are perpetually pathologized and Africa is always the sole cause of its own problems, seeking to complicate these narratives by recognizing African refugee issues within exploitative global colonial and neo-colonial systems of power.

Keeping the Republic Christine Barbour, Gerald C. Wright, 2016-11-19 This refreshed and dynamic Eighth Edition of Keeping the Republic revitalizes the twin themes of power and citizenship by adding to the imperative for students to navigate competing political narratives about who should get what and how they should get it. The exploding possibilities of the digital age make this task all the more urgent and complex Christine Barbour and Gerald Wright the authors of this bestseller continue to meet students where they are in order to give them a sophisticated understanding of American politics and teach them the skills to think critically about it The entire book has been refocused to look not just at power and citizenship but at the role that control of information and its savvy consumption play in keeping the republic

Transforming South Africa Armin Osmanovic,2002      From Enslavement to Environmentalism David McDermott Hughes,2011-10-01 From Enslavement to Environmentalism takes a challenging ethnographic and historical look at the politics of eco development in the Zimbabwe Mozambique border zone David Hughes argues that European colonization in southern Africa essentially an unsuccessful effort to turn the region into another North America or Australia has profoundly reshaped rural politics and culture and continues to do so as neoliberal developers commoditize the lands of African peasants in the name of conservation and economic progress Hughes builds his engaging analysis around a sort of natural experiment in the past whites colonized British Zimbabwe but avoided Portuguese Mozambique almost entirely In Zimbabwe chiefdoms that had historically focused on controlling people began to follow the English example of consolidating political power by dividing and controlling land Meanwhile in Mozambique Portugal perpetuated traditional practices of recruiting and distributing forced labor as the primary means of securing power The territory remained unmapped For almost the entire twentieth century a sharp disjuncture in the politics of land leadership labor and resource use marked the border zone In the late 1990s as white South Africans began to establish timber plantations in Mozambique that difference began to be effaced Under the banner of environmentalism and economic progress tourism firms were allowed to claim peasant farmland The objectives of liberal conservationists and developers though high minded led them to commoditize ancestral lands Southern African policymakers supported this new form of colonization as a form of racial integration between white investors and black peasants paving the way for an ironic and contentious situation in which ethnic tolerance gentrification and land grabbing have gone hand in hand From Enslavement to Environmentalism engages topics central to current debates in anthropology resource politics and development policy and will be of interest to both regional specialists and generalists
