Sustainable Finance and Business in Sub-Saharan Africa David Mhlanga, Mufaro Dzingirai, 2024-12-13 In the 21st century the imperative for sustainable development has assumed a paramount role echoing the pressing global concerns surrounding environmental degradation, social inequalities and economic challenges. Within this context Sub-Saharan Africa emerges as a region of particular significance where the pursuit of sustainability holds immense promise and relevance. Despite being endowed with abundant natural resources and a vibrant entrepreneurial spirit Sub-Saharan Africa grapples with enduring issues of poverty, inequality and environmental harm. This book explores the innovative paradigms of sustainable finance and business within Sub-Saharan Africa, exploring how novel approaches can effectively tackle the region's most pressing challenges while simultaneously catalyzing economic growth and societal progress. The chapters presented here comprise a diverse array of cutting-edge financial strategies, circular economy initiatives, technological advancements and business models that are revolutionizing sustainable development across the continent. Sub-Saharan Africa, characterized by its youthful demographic and rapidly expanding economies, is poised for transformation. Yet it confronts formidable obstacles in the form of poverty, inequality and environmental degradation. The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) offer a comprehensive framework to address these issues. However, realizing these objectives requires innovative solutions that can surmount the unique constraints of the region. Fortunately, Sub-Saharan Africa is a crucible of innovation with a growing community of entrepreneurs, financiers and decision makers committed to sustainable development. Initiatives promoting circular economies are reducing waste and enhancing resource efficiency while financial instruments like impact investing and green bonds are attracting new streams of funding. Simultaneously, technological breakthroughs such as mobile payment systems and renewable energy solutions are expanding access to essential services and driving economic expansion. Despite these encouraging advancements Sub Saharan Africa stands at a pivotal juncture in its journey towards sustainability This book with a focus on practical and scalable solutions endeavors to showcase the most promising and successful models that can propel sustainable development across the region Climate Change 2014 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability: Part B: Regional Aspects: Volume 2, Regional Aspects Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC),2014-12-29 This latest Fifth Assessment Report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC will again form the standard reference for all those concerned with climate change and its consequences including students researchers and policy makers in environmental science meteorology climatology biology ecology atmospheric chemistry and environmental policy Climate Change 2014 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability: Regional Aspects Christopher B. Corporate Governance and IFRS in the Middle East Muath Abdelqader, Tamer K. Darwish, Khalil

Nimer, 2022-12-14 The rapid globalization of capital markets has increased attention toward examining the quality of the disclosure practices implemented by companies as internationalization and globalization are the most important motives of the harmonization of financial statements preparation and presentation Given the expansion of trade and the openness to foreign capital markets investment decisions became not limited only for local users but also international users may need to access the financial information The issuance of International Financial Reporting Standards IFRS to be used throughout the world aims to improve the comparability and understandability of financial statements and hence to enhance investment decisions through helping investors across the borders to invest in multinational companies Although fluid and under developed institutional arrangements remain central features of emerging markets ensuring effective corporate governance mechanisms would indeed support companies in complying with IFRS the latter imposes a challenge for companies operating in emerging markets This book evaluates the differences in the level of compliance with IFRS across the GCC states exploring the impact of corporate governance on the level of compliance with IFRS and presenting an empirical analysis of companies across the GCC It makes an important contribution by providing a detailed empirical analysis of the interplay between corporate governance and IFRS in emerging market setting and highlights the way for future research It will provide international business management and accounting and finance students and senior practitioners with a completely new and updated guide to the work in the field of corporate governance and IFRS compliance in emerging markets

The Politics of the Dead in Zimbabwe, 2000-2020 Joost Fontein, 2022 Innovative and challenging study that provides fresh insights on the anthropology of death and postcolonial politics In 1898 just before she was hanged for rebelling against colonial rule Charwe Nyakasikana spirit medium of the legendary ancestor Ambuya Nehanda famously prophesised that my bones will rise again A century later bones bodies and human remains have come to occupy an increasingly complex place in Zimbabwe's postcolonial milieu From ancestral bones rising again in the struggle for independence and later land to resurfacing bones of unsettled war dead and from the troubling decaying remains of post independence gukurahundi massacres to the leaky tortured bodies of recent election violence human materials are intertwined in postcolonial politics in ways that go far beyond yet necessarily implicate contests over memory commemoration and the representation of the past

In this book Joost Fontein examines the complexities of human remains in Zimbabwe's politics of the dead. Challenging and innovative, he takes us beyond current scholarship on memory commemoration and the changing significance of traditional death practices to examine the political implications of human remains as material substances as duplicitous rumours and as returning spirits. Linking the indeterminacy of human substances to the productive but precarious uncertainties of rumours and spirits, the book points to how the incompleteness of death is politically productive and ultimately derives from the problematic entangled excessivities of human material and immaterial existence and is deeply intertwined with the stylistics of postcolonial power and politics. Joost Fontein is Professor of Anthropology, University of Johannesburg. He was previously Director of the British Institute in Eastern Africa and Lecturer in Social Anthropology at the University of Edinburgh. His books include Remaking Mutirikwi Landscape: Water and Belonging (James Currey, 2015, shortlisted for the African Studies Association 2016 Herskovits Prize Southern Africa, South Africa, Namibia, Lesotho, Swaziland and Botswana, University of Johannesburg Press).

A Non-Technical Guide to International Accounting Roger Hussey, Audra Ong, 2019-11-08. Business has become more international and more complex. Whether you are a manager, a student, or someone generally interested in corporate financial information, you want information and you want to understand that information. Companies in all countries are required to generate financial information if for no other reason than to settle their tax obligations. If you are interested in the larger companies such as those listed on a stock exchange, they must make financial information public, and the nature and type of that information is strictly regulated. Companies must comply with accounting standards. Many countries use the International Accounting Standards issued by the IFRS Foundation. This is a not-for-profit international organization that has developed a single set of high-quality global accounting standards. These standards can be complex, but this book explains clearly the main requirements.
