International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz, Vitor Geraldi Haase, Pekka Räsänen, 2019-01-30 This comprehensive volume provides teachers researchers and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational behavioural and neurosciences integrating cognitive developmental and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades but the most part of this research has been conducted in non applied settings and there s still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings Now it s time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues And it does so from an international perspective dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society

Validating Technological Innovation David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2016-04-02 This book discusses Hong Kong s use of onscreen marking OSM in public examinations Given that Hong Kong leads the way in OSM innovation this book has arisen from a recognised need to provide a comprehensive coherent account of the findings of various separate but linked validation studies of onscreen public examinations in Hong Kong The authors discuss their experience of the validation process demonstrating how high stakes innovation should be fully validated by a series of research studies in order to satisfy key stakeholders

Zimbabwe@40 Lloyd Sachikonye, David Kaulemu, 2021-05-17 Zimbabwe 40 is a celebration of the country's four decades of independence and statehood Forty years is a relatively short period in a nation's life but it is a formative period what lessons can be learnt from the successes and failures challenges and opportunities of the last 40 years What should be avoided in the next 40 Lloyd Sachikonye and David Kaulemu have assembled a distinguished team of scholars to address these questions and the book focuses on issues that characterise the country's development trajectory the linkage between values and institutions defects in its democracy the curse of mineral and agricultural endowment the impact of migration and the social exclusion of women and young people The book is written from a depth of commitment to a just peaceful and prosperous Zimbabwe and represents a work in progress reflecting the continuing research evaluation and dialogue that each of the authors is engaged in and signalling the nature and direction of future such work As the editors conclude None of the chapters are pessimistic nor are they negative about the country They are realistic about the gravity of the historical moment the nation faces and the high moral political and economic mountains we must climb before we can see the Promised Land Yet they are full of hope they are convinced that we have not come to the end of history

The Routledge Handbook of Disability in Southern Africa Tsitsi Chataika, 2018-07-27 This comprehensive ground breaking southern African centred collection spans the breadth of disability research and practice Reputable and emerging scholars together with disability advocates adopt a critical and interdisciplinary stance to prove challenge and shift commonly held social understanding of disability in traditional discourses frontiers and practices in prominent areas such as international development disability studies education culture health religion gender sports tourism ICT theatre media housing and legislation This handbook provides a body of interdisciplinary analyses suitable for the development of disability studies in southern Africa Through drawing upon and introducing resources from several disciplines theoretical perspectives and personal narratives from disability activists it reflects on disability and sustainable development in southern Africa It also addresses a clear need to bring together interdisciplinary perspectives and narratives on disability and sustainable development in ways that do not undermine disability politics advanced by disabled people across the world The handbook further acknowledges and builds upon the huge body of literature that understands the social cultural educational psychological economic historical and political facets of the exclusion of disabled people The handbook covers the following broad themes Disability inclusion ICT and sustainable development Access to education from early childhood development up to higher education Disability employment entrepreneurship and community based rehabilitation Religion gender and parenthood Tourism sports and accessibility Compelling narratives from disability activists on societal attitudes toward

Titles Without Merit Francis Machingura, Munyaradzi Mawere, 2024-05-29 This book examines the controversial issues surrounding the desire for titles both earned and unearned in Zimbabwe and beyond The desire for titles is often associated with the quest for status power class and recognition Unfortunately this desire has resulted in faking and the problem of distinguishing genuine PhDs from fake ones The unscrupulous quest for fake degrees is referred to in this book as Titlemania or Taitolomania The scramble for titles has not spared community leaders across the divide Of concern is the failure of higher education students to use their earned titles to contribute to the search for solutions to societal problems through national technological development The perspectives of the contributors in this volume provoke debates on the value of doctorates in Africa and Zimbabwe in particular considering that most PhD holders are not using their degrees to contribute to national development production of goods and services and the improvement of societal conditions

Handbook of Research on Social Inequality and Education Wisdom, Sherrie, Leavitt, Lynda, Bice, Cynthia, 2019-06-28 In comparing one public school to another discussions frequently include talk concerning the socioeconomics of a school or district which then leads to talk about the advantages that one socioeconomic setting has over another Educators tend to agree that low academic achievement frequently associated with a low socioeconomic status is a characteristic difficult to resolve for a population of school children The Handbook of Research on Social Inequality and Education is a critical reference source that provides insights into social influences on school and educational settings Featuring an array of topics including online learning social mobility and teacher preparation this book is excellent for educational leaders educational researchers teachers academicians administrators instructional designers and teacher preparation programs

Farm Labor Struggles in Zimbabwe Blair Rutherford, 2016-12-19 In the early twenty first century white owned farms in Zimbabwe were subject to large scale occupations by black urban dwellers in an increasingly violent struggle between national electoral politics land reform and contestations over democracy Were the black occupiers being freed from racist bondage as cheap laborers by the state supported massive land redistribution or were they victims of state violence who had been denied access to their homes social services and jobs Blair Rutherford examines the unequal social and power relations shaping the lives livelihoods and struggles of some of the farm workers during this momentous period in Zimbabwean history His analysis is anchored in the time he spent on a horticultural farm just east of Harare the capital of Zimbabwe that was embroiled in the tumult of political violence associated with jamba the democratization movement Rutherford complicates this analysis by showing that there was far more in play than political oppression by a corrupt and authoritarian regime and a movement to rectify racial and colonial land imbalances as dominant narratives would have it Instead he reveals farm worker livelihoods access to land gendered violence and conflicting promises of rights and sovereignty played a more important role in the political economy of citizenship and labor than had been imagined

The Uncounted Sara L.M. Davis, 2020-06-11 In the global race to reach the end of AIDS why is the world slipping off track The answer has to do with stigma money and data Global funding for AIDS response is declining Tough choices must be made some people will win and some will lose Global aid agencies and governments use health data to make these choices While aid agencies prioritize a shrinking list of countries many governments deny that sex workers men who have sex with men drug users and transgender people exist Since no data is gathered about their needs life saving services are not funded and the lack of data reinforces the denial The Uncounted cracks open this and other data paradoxes through interviews with global health leaders and activists ethnographic research analysis of gaps in mathematical models and the author's experience as an activist and senior official It shows what is counted what is not and why empowering communities to gather their own data could be key to ending AIDS Implementing Deeper Learning and 21st Century Education Reforms

Fernando M. Reimers, 2020-11-04 This open access book is a comparative analysis of recent large scale education reforms that broadened curriculum goals to better prepare students for the 21st century The book examines what governments actually do when they broaden curriculum goals with attention to the details of implementation To this end the book examines system level reforms in six countries at various levels of development The study includes system level reforms in jurisdictions where students achieve high levels in international assessments of basic literacies such as Singapore and Ontario Canada as well as in nations where students achieve much lower levels such as Kenya Mexico Punjab Pakistan and Zimbabwe The chapters examine system level reforms that focus on strengthening the capacity to teach the basics as in Ontario and Pakistan as well as reforms that aim at building the capacity to teach a much broader set of competencies and skills such as Kenya Mexico Singapore and Zimbabwe The volume includes systems at very different levels of spending per student and reforms at various points in the cycle of policy implementation some just starting some struggling to survive a governmental transition and others that have been in place for an extended period of time From the comparative study of these reforms we aim to provide an understanding of how to build the capacity of education systems to teach 21st century skills at scale in diverse settings
