Mapping research and innovation in the Republic of Zimbabwe Lemarchand, Guillermo A., Schneegans, Susan, 2014-08-11

International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties Annemarie Fritz, Vitor Geraldi Haase, Pekka

Räsänen, 2019-01-30 This comprehensive volume provides teachers researchers and education professionals with cutting edge knowledge developed in the last decades by the educational behavioural and neurosciences integrating cognitive developmental and socioeconomic approaches to deal with the problems children face in learning mathematics The neurocognitive mechanisms and the cognitive processes underlying acquisition of arithmetic abilities and their significance for education have been the subject of intense research in the last few decades but the most part of this research has been conducted in non applied settings and there s still a deep discrepancy between the level of scientific knowledge and its implementation into actual educational settings Now it s time to bring the results from the laboratory to the classroom Apart from bringing the theoretical discussions to educational settings the volume presents a wide range of methods for early detection of children with risks in mathematics learning and strategies to develop effective interventions based on innovative cognitive test instruments It also provides insights to translate research knowledge into public policies in order to address socioeconomic issues And it does so from an international perspective dedicating a whole section to the cultural diversity of mathematics learning difficulties in different parts of the world All of this makes the International Handbook of Mathematical Learning Difficulties an essential tool for those involved in the daily struggle to prepare the future generations to succeed in the global knowledge society Education in the New Zimbabwe ,1988 Primary School Achievement in English and Mathematics in Zimbabwe Levi M. Nyagura, Abby Rubin Riddell, 1993 In Zimbabwe s primary schools higher achievement in math is associated with the amount of teacher training and instructional time as well as the pupil teacher ratio Higher achievement in English is associated with the pupil teacher and textbook to pupil ratios as well as the amount of teacher training Mathematics Education Across Time and Place Thomas O'Shea, 2016-05-19 What is mathematics and what aspects of it should be taught in schools How and to whom should it be taught and how should its understanding be assessed These questions continue to drive curriculum development school organization teaching methods and research agendas No one today doubts that mathematics should be taught in our schools but this was not always so Mathematics Education Across Time and Place aims to help mathematics teachers teacher educators and anyone else interested in mathematics education appreciate the path this discipline has taken through the ages To understand the historical and social context for schools and the place of mathematics within them we meet a variety of mathematics educators from different times and places Though fictional their lives and social circumstances are based on historical documents and professional sources They range from ancient Greece to modern Zimbabwe from Persia to British Columbia from Islamic Baghdad to revolutionary Paris from Elizabethan England to twentieth century New York and from the rural one room schools of North America to the modern comprehensive secondary school By sharing the teachers lives we come to understand how they developed their love for teaching mathematics and how their work fit into the larger social context of their time Teacher in Zimbabwe,2014

Beyond the Crises: Zimbabwes Prospects for Transformation Tendai Murisa,Tendai Chikweche,2015-12-01 Over the past years few African countries have been the focus of discussions and analyses generating a vast array of literature as much as Zimbabwe The socioeconomic and political crises since the turn of the century have deeply transformed the country from the ideals of a vibrant freshly independent nation just two decades earlier These transformations have necessitated the call for the restructuring of Zimbabwean society polity and economy But this literature remains exclusively within the realm of academic thinking and theorising with no concerted effort to move beyond this by explicitly drawing out the policy implications Beyond the Crises Zimbabwes Prospects for Transformation is a welcome addition to the academic and policy literature with a much broader and all embracing focus in terms of policy interventions By focusing on different aspects of social and economic justice Murisa and Chikweche go beyond initiating a broad discussion on these two key pillars of human development with a view to suggesting possible future directions of practical solutions and policy development for the attainment of inclusive social and economic justice for Zimbabweans Moto,2001 The World of Science Education Femi S. Otulaja,Meshach B. Ogunniyi,2017-09-12 Each volume in the 7 volume series The World of Science Education reviews research in a key region of the world These regions include North America South and Latin America Asia Australia and New Zealand Europe and Israel North Africa and the Middle East and Sub Saharan Africa The focus of this Handbook is on research in science education in mostly former British colonies in Sub Saharan Africa and the scholarship that most closely support this program The reviews of the research situate what has been accomplished within a given field in Sub Saharan Africa rather than an international context The purpose therefore is to articulate and exhibit regional networks and trends that produced specific forms of science education The thrust lies in identifying the roots of research programs and sketching trajectories focusing the changing face of problems and solutions within regional contexts The approach allows readers to review what has been done and accomplished what is missing and what might be done next Global Perspectives on Teacher Performance Improvement Al-Mahdi, Osama,Purinton, Ted,2022-02-04 In service teacher professional development is central to most empirical conceptions of educational quality As the techniques and strategies for educational reform have spread rapidly throughout the world teacher professional development practices have been borrowed across borders It is important to study the global sharing of information on teacher professional development Global Perspectives on Teacher Performance Improvement examines the implementation of proven high quality teacher professional development practices in unique environments around the world It further explains the power of a globally connected community of teacher quality improvement Covering topics such as mentoring programs education technology and education workforce this book is an essential resource for educational administration and faculty pre service teachers the public education sector government officials educators of both K 12 and higher education researchers and academicians around the world make this handbook a unique source of information on international accounting education and certification processes. A uniform format in most of the chapters allows for easy comparison between countries. This volume documents the development of accounting education and practice at country and global levels, studies the sensitivity of accounting education and practices to the unique socio-economic needs of its environment and allows comparative studies at a time when attempts have begun to harmonize accounting education internationally. Most importantly, it shows how educational programmes around the world are preparing future accounting professionals to deal with the rapid technological and environmental changes of the 21st century.

Learning from and Teaching Africans Birgit Brock-Utne, 2022-12-08. This book brings together stories from the author's exciting life as a professor, consultant and researcher mostly in Africa but also in Japan, New Zealand, Norway and the US. The book is aimed at college students in cross-cultural communication and international education and with a special interest in African countries, their languages, their way of looking at life. It dismantles the myth of the thousands of African languages and shows that many of them have millions of speakers and all of them are cross-border languages. Africans are not anglophone, francophone or lusophone; they are afrophone. The book also discusses projects that aim at cooperation between universities in the North and the South. Why did two of the projects the author has been involved in succeed so well and a third one fail?

Validating Technological Innovation David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2016-04-02. This book discusses Hong Kong's use of onscreen marking (OSM) in public examinations. Given that Hong Kong leads the way in OSM innovation, this book has arisen from a recognised need to provide a comprehensive, coherent account of the findings of various separate but linked validation studies of onscreen public examinations in Hong Kong. The authors discuss their experience of the validation process, demonstrating how high-stakes innovation should be fully validated by a series of research studies in order to satisfy key stakeholders.
