Integral Ubuntu Leadership Passmore Musungwa Matupire, 2016-10-04 The four worlds as we know them today the North West South and East are out of balance The West and the North generally dominate on a global scale while the South and the East lag behind This also happens at individual societal and organisational levels It is clear that there is a need to change the way we lead our organisations in business and the way we think about leading in politics Here is a comprehensive exploration of the Integral Leadership challenges of the twenty first century The author combines the African philosophy of Ubuntu or humanness the cornerstone of African thought and life with the concept of Integral Leadership with particular reference to Lessem and Schieffer's combining in their 2010 book Integral Research and Innovation of nature and community culture and spirituality science and technology and politics and economics This connectedness in the new paradigm of wholeness and relatedness goes beyond the relationships of human beings alone and involves experiences with nature and community Leadership is viewed from an indigenous and exogenous perspective bringing together a newly Integral approach which will also introduce industry ecology and knowledge ecology as an evolution of the Ubuntu philosophy The author offers a unique forum through which to commit to paper the operationalisation of the Integral Ubuntu Leadership model in catalysing development efforts and in CARE ing for communities and societies

Dialogues in Climate and Environmental Research, Policy and Planning Innocent Chirisa, 2020-07-03 Climate change is the topic of the century. It is a subject of discussion by sceptics, heretics and those that have immersed in it as a serious debate for engagement. In this volume the matter is localised to the plateau bordered by the great rivers of Limpopo to the south and Zambezi to the north. Evidence has it that climate change is inducing immense environmental change hitherto unknown including water stress and droughts, heat waves and flooding. The effects span across all sectors: agriculture, forestry, engineering, construction and other socio-economic dimensions of life. When an issue becomes such topical it becomes political but also courts policy debate. The thrust of this volume is to explore into climate change as an environmental concern begging government attention and requiring prioritisation as a shaper of our future: whether we set to put mitigation or adaptation measures in place or we choose to do nothing about it as sceptics would perhaps suggest. The book explores climate change as a theoretical, policy, technical and practical debate as it affects sectors and rural and urban spatialities in Zimbabwe. Contributions explore such themes as regional research, gender, disaster preparedness, policymaking, resilience, governance, urban planning, risk management, environmental law and the food-water-health-energy-climate change nexus. Military Review, 2019

The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications,2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change Clinical Cases in Tropical Medicine

Agricultural Reform in Rwanda Chris Huggins,2017-10-15 International observers have lauded Rwanda as an example of an African country taking control of its own development trajectory and as a market friendly destination for investment A key component of this narrative has been an ambitious programme of agricultural reform involving private firms NGOs and international charities The Rwandan government claims these reforms have been a resounding success tripling crop yields and helping to combat hunger Chris Huggins argues however that Rwanda s liberal modernising image sits poorly with the regime s continuing authoritarian tendencies Featuring in depth case studies of the effects of agricultural reform in three different regions and drawing on hundreds of interviews Huggins shows that the much vaunted liberalization of agriculture has in fact depended on the coercion of Rwandan farmers and in many cases has had a detrimental impact on their livelihoods With the Kagame regime now coming under increasing international scrutiny this work provides a timely look at the impact of market friendly authoritarianism in contemporary Africa making essential reading for students and scholars of development in the fields of sociology anthropology political science and economics
