A Future for Planning Michael Harris,2019-04-25 As well as being spatial planning is necessarily also about the future and yet time has been relatively neglected in the academic practice and policy literature on planning Time in particular the need for longer term thinking is critical to responding effectively to a range of pressing societal challenges from climate change to an ageing population poor urban health to sustainable economic development This makes the relative neglect of time not only a matter of theoretical importance but also increasing practical and political significance A Future for Planning is an accessible wide ranging book that considers how planning practice and policy have been constrained by short termism as well as by a familiar lack of spatial thinking in policy in response to major social economic and environmental challenges It suggests that failures in planning often represent failures to anticipate and shape the future which go well beyond planning systems and practices rather our failure to plan for the longer term relates to wider issues in policy making and governance This book traces the rise and fall of long term planning over the past 80 years or so but also sets out how planning can take responsibility for twenty first century challenges It provides examples of successes and failures of longer term planning from around the world In short the book argues that we need to put time back into planning and develop forms of planning which serve to promote the sustainability and wellbeing of future generations

Navigating the New Retail Landscape Alan Treadgold,Jonathan Reynolds,2020-11-26 The global retail industry is in the early stages of an era of profound and unprecedented change This book is intended to serve as a wide ranging robust and practical guide to leaders of enterprises tasked with both understanding and delivering success in the new landscape of retailing Part 1 describes the major directions and drivers of change that define the new retail landscape Accelerating changes in technology the rise to international prominence of internet enabled shoppers and the rapid emergence of entirely new retail enterprises and business models are combining to re shape the very fundamentals of the retail industry No longer are shops central or even necessary to the business of retailing No longer is choice for the shopper limited to the neighbourhood town or even country in which they live No longer is the act of retailing solely the preserve of traditional retail enterprises as internet enabled businesses technology logistics suppliers and financial services enterprises all seek direct relationships with the shopper The new landscape of retailing is an unforgiving one Success can be achieved more quickly than ever before but failure is equally rapid New opportunities are profound but so too are the challenges Part 2 of this book discusses the structures skills and capabilities that retail enterprises and their leaders will need if they are to be successful This second edition presents more than 25 detailed case studies of innovative and successful enterprises alongside more than one hundred smaller examples to illustrate the themes discussed A new afterword also presents ten central areas business leaders must focus on in order to build organizational resilienc in the wake of COVID 19 and the profound uncertainties retail enterprises now face Frameworks and practical guidance are offered to help readers contextualise the nature of change occurring on a global scale and identify the capabilities skills and perspectives that will be needed at both an enterprise and a personal leadership level
