International Perspectives on Modern Developments in Early Childhood Education Huertas-Abril, Cristina A., Gómez-Parra, María Elena, 2020-06-26 Through different approaches like toys and play children explore and know the rules and symbols of their communities and recreate roles and situations that reflect their sociocultural and 21st century plurilingual world As a result they learn how to subordinate desires to social rules cooperate with others willingly and engage in socially appropriate behavior When they are evaluated together psychologically there is a current need for action to increase the amount and quality of play provided to children Since discrepancies are observed between urban and rural areas as well as among different cultures there is also a need for a research initiative where cultures can learn and take advantage of the experiences of each other

International Perspectives on Modern Developments in Early Childhood Education is an essential scholarly publication that identifies ways of intertwining key areas of early childhood education including international approaches intercultural education bilingual plurilingual education and the role of play and toys as means for meaningful intercultural and multilingual learning By incorporating a view of different cultures societies languages and educational experiences in early childhood education this volume provides data for international and intercultural exchange for the benefit of children Highlighting a range of topics such as educational systems play therapy and games this book is ideal for early childhood teachers educators academicians researchers professionals psychologists sociologists and students

The Re-emergence of Values in Science Education Deborah Corrigan, Justin Dillon, Richard Gunstone, 2007 Issues relating to values have always had a place in the school science curriculum Sometimes this has been only in terms of the inclusion of topics such as the nature of science and or scientific method and or particular intentions for laboratory work that relate to scientific method sometimes it has been much broader for example in curricula with STS emphases Of importance to aspects of this proposal is that different countries cultures have had different traditions in terms of the place of values in the school science curriculum One obvious very broad difference of this form is the central place in science education thinking in many European countries of bildung and the complete absence of this construct from most science curriculum thinking in English speaking contexts There are numbers of such country cultural differences In the 1990s many countries moved towards various conceptualizations of Outcomes Based Education OBE sometimes so labelled and sometimes not It was usual but not universal for OBE focused science curricula to have constrained views of the values that should be implicit and explicit in curriculum that is views concerned only with the nature of science and scientific method both usually seen as quite unproblematic Currently there are a number of education systems that are changing again and choosing to move away from Outcomes Based Education for example South Africa and several Australian states One of the most interesting features of many of these movements is the re embracing of a wider view of the science curriculum including a reconsideration of the nature and place of the values associated with science in the purposes for and approaches to science education      Constructing Race Nadine E. Dolby, 2001-08-30 For modern urban South African youth the concept of race persists and falters      The African Book Publishing Record , 2007      African Schools as Enabling Spaces Vanessa Scherman, Linda Liebenberg, 2023-03-31 Using African schools as case studies this book presents an implementation framework that can be used by schools internationally to drive social change and support their role as enabling spaces allowing learners to thrive Recognising the increase in demands violent conflicts lack of stability and social strain prevalent within the current African school system this book covers the challenges that negatively impact children s development by understanding and presenting a framework that ensures a holistic social and educational support system can be created for students Featuring contributions from a broad range of leading scholars the book ultimately addresses the critical need in academic and practice research for the importance of schools in building civil societies Arguing for the importance of schools as places of stability social inclusivity and communities of care this book will have direct relevance to academics researchers and post graduate students in the field of education policy international and comparative education and character education Those working in school leadership management and administration environments will also benefit from this volume

African Books in Print , 1978      Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature Supplement , 1927      Social and Physical Ecologies for Child Resilience: Wisdom from Asia and Africa Haibin Li, Guanglun Michael Mu, Linda Theron, 2023-11-16 Since Emmy Werner and her team discovered on the Hawaiian island of Kauai the invincible children who fared well despite exposure to significant household risks there has been proliferating research on child resilience as a positive response to adverse conditions The past five decades have seen significant advancements in and diverse approaches to understanding challenges facilitative factors and positive outcomes in the resilience process that involve children Despite existing and continuously emerging modelings and framings there appears a common understanding that child resilience unfolds through the interactions between individuals and the environments surrounding them This Research Topic therefore takes an ecological approach to child resilience While ecologies constitute social spaces that nurture child resilience they can also refer to the physical environments surrounding children There has been robust empirical evidence suggesting resilience is a shared capacity of the individual and the social ecology e g families schools and communities and more recently of the individual and the physical ecology e g the built or natural environment      International Index to Periodicals , 1929 An author and subject index to publications in fields of anthropology archaeology and classical studies economics folklore geography history language and literature music philosophy political science religion and theology sociology and theatre arts

Decolonising Teacher Education Parlo Singh, Deborah Heck, Stephen Heimans, Angelina Ambrosetti, 2024-12-12 This book makes a deliberate attempt to explore the complexity of decolonising theories in teacher education It draws attention to the historical and emerging impacts of colonialism on educational institutions and practices challenging educators to expand their understanding of diverse trajectories of decolonial research both theoretically and practically It adds to the discussions and dialogues between different disciplinary traditions such as postcolonial and decolonial studies as well as critical Indigenous and critical race studies As an international compilation it offers educators a unique opportunity to envision teacher education through alternative lenses rethinking the relationship between ontology epistemology ethics that is what constitutes knowledge how it is produced and what material worlds are constructed in and through knowledge research systems Through compelling examples this book illustrates how educators have navigated epistemic injustices within the field of teacher education amidst the rising global demands for standardisation It encourages teacher educators to explore alternative theories within their own contexts crafting new teacher education practices in universities and schools
