

Personal Essay: Example #2

Ann

Do you have a friend who loves you? Well, I did. Her name was Ann. She was a very close friend of mine. She was almost like family to me. Ann was very kind, and she had bright blue eyes and curly gray hair. I loved her very much.

She invited me to go swimming every summer. We had a lot of fun all those summers. But she could not get in the water most of the time because she was sick. Sometimes my sisters would come swimming, too. But it was better with just Ann and me because I just wanted to spend time with her.

Ann always listened to me when I had a problem. She was always there for me when I needed help on homework or had problems at school. Sometimes she would let me come in her house, and she would give me something to eat. Most of the time it would be an orange and a soft drink.

Last summer that all changed. Ann was diagnosed with cancer. Two weeks after Ann was diagnosed with cancer, she died. Her funeral was not too long after that. My mom did not let me go to the visitation at the funeral home or to the funeral ceremony.

My heart broke. Ann was no longer there with me. Now, it's been a year since Ann's death, but I still dream about her. Now it's hard without her. My whole life has changed without Ann, and I really miss her. I know that everywhere I go there will always be a spot in my heart for Ann!

Kendra, a fourth grader, submitted this model in which she shares a very personal experience.

The Essays Only You Can Write Irene Papoulis, 2023-10-17 The Essays Only You Can Write offers a perspective on essay writing that spotlights a writer's uniqueness. Resisting the perception that personal and academic writing are at odds with one another, it treats the impulse to write personally as potential fuel for a variety of writing purposes. The book encourages students to think like academics pursuing their enthusiasms, trusting their ideas and questioning their conclusions by leading them through three main writing assignments: a personal essay, an essay based on texts, and a research essay. Each chapter offers exercises and strategies for various stages in the pre-writing, drafting, and revision processes. Freewriting, extensive attention to planning, devising a structure and order of ideas that both promote and reflect engagement with a topic, developing rhetorical awareness and knowledge of conventions, and an advocacy for expressive, socially responsible writing are all central elements of the text's instruction. By acknowledging the emotions inherent in the writing process, many of which can muddle thinking ("I don't want anyone to see this," "what if I make mistakes," "what if the writing isn't good," "I don't want to be critiqued," etc.), Papoulis helps beginning college writers to navigate the psychological as well as the technical roadblocks that can get in the way of their best personal and academic writing.

The book includes a wide range of innovative approaches to teaching essay writing, from how to picture and act out an essay to a winning format for a topic sentence and using scattergrams to turn brainstorming into constructive outlines. Throughout the book, assessment tools and marking keys support simple marking techniques that are visible and relatively frequent and consider not just the essay but effort and time on task.
