Everyday Lifestyles and Sustainability Fabricio Chicca,Brenda Vale,Robert Vale,2018-04-09 The impact of humanity on the earth overshoots the earth s bio capacity to supply humanity s needs meaning that people are living off earth s capital rather than its income However not all countries are equal and this book explores why apparently similar patterns of daily living can lead to larger and smaller environmental impacts The contributors describe daily life in many different places in the world and then calculate the environmental impact of these ways of living from the perspective of ecological and carbon footprints This leads to comparison and discussion of what living within the limits of the planet might mean Current footprints for countries are derived from national statistics and these hide the variety of impacts made by individual people and the choices they make in their daily lives This book takes a bottom up approach by calculating the footprints of daily living The purpose is to show that small changes in behaviour now could avoid some very challenging problems in the future Offering a global perspective on the question of sustainable living this book will be of great interest to anyone with a concern for the future as well as students and researchers in environmental studies human geography and development studies

History of Electric Cars

Nigel Burton,2013-06-30 One hundred years ago electric cars were the most popular automobiles in the world In the late nineteenth century and at the start of the twentieth century they outsold every other type of car And yet within a couple of decades of the start of the twentieth century the electric car had vanished Thousands of battery powered cars disappeared from the streets replaced by the internal combustion engine and their place in the history of the automobile was quietly erased A century later electric cars are making a comeback Fears over pollution and global warming have forced manufacturers to reconsider the electric concept A History of Electric Cars presents for the first time the full story of electric cars and their hybrid cousins It examines how and why electric cars failed the first time and why today s car manufacturers must learn the lessons of the past if they are to avoid repeating previous mistakes all over again The book examines in detail Early vehicles such as the Lohner Porsche petrol electric hybrid of 1901 Key figures in the history of the electric car development such as Henry Ford Sir Clive Sinclair s plans to build a number of electric vehicles designed to sit alongside the Sinclair C5 The return of the electric technology to vehicles as diverse as the NASA Lunar Rover commuting vehicles and supercars Future developments in electric cars For the first time the full story of electric cars and their hybrids are examined

The hidden past of the electric automobile is uncovered and its future developments are discussed Superbly illustrated with 300 colour photographs many of which are rare and original sketch designs Nigel Burton has written and lectured on cars and automotive history for more than twenty years     Moody's Industrial Manual ,1989 Covering New York American regional stock exchanges international companies     Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2005     Bunker Bradley Garrett,2020-08-04 As seen on 60 Minutes a thought provoking chilling and eerily prescient look at prepper communities around the world that are building bunkers against a possible apocalypse Currently 3 7 million Americans call themselves preppers Millions more prep without knowing it Bradley Garrett who began writing this book years before the 2020 Covid 19 pandemic argues that prepping is a rational response to global social and political systems that are failing to produce credible narratives of continued stability Left with a sense of foreboding fueled by disease outbreaks increasing government dysfunctionality eroding critical infrastructure nuclear brinksmanship and an accelerating climate crisis people all over the world are responding predictably by hunkering down Garrett traveled across four continents to meet those who are constructing panic rooms building underground backyard survival chambers stockpiling supplies preparing go bags hiding inflatable rafts rigging mobile bugout vehicles and burrowing deep into the earth He has returned with a big thinking deep diving page turning study of fear privilege and apocalypse Robert Macfarlane author of Underland from the frontlines of the way we live now an illuminating reflection on our age of disquiet and dread that brings our times into new and sharper focus With scenes that are fascinating amusing crazy chilling and surreally topical Douglas Preston author of Lost City of the Monkey God Garrett shows that the bunker is all around us in malls airports gated communities the vehicles we drive Most of all he reveals it s in our minds     Year Book Australia No. 67, 1983 ,1997     Year Book Australia ,1918 Hardback to be treated as trade bibliography
