Vw Polo 2001 Model:

A Successful Transformation? Petr Pavlínek, 2008-04-30 I started researching the dramatic changes in the automobile industry of Central and East European countries in the late 1990s. My interest grew out of my previous work on the post socialist transformation, foreign direct investment and regional economic development. While researching the economic and regional development effects of foreign direct investment, I was increasingly drawn to the automobile industry because of the speed and depth of its transformation through foreign direct investment and its potentially very significant economic and regional development effects. In addition to working on the Central and East European automobile industry as a whole, I became interested in detailed case studies of enterprise restructuring as I wanted to understand its complex nature and the role of different actors in the restructuring of the automobile industry. In order to achieve this goal, I visited dozens of automotive enterprises, especially in the Czech Republic (Czechia), to conduct in-depth interviews with key informants. I have also interviewed key informants at ministries, automotive associations and academia and collected various secondary data and information. This book is the outcome of this work. In this endeavor, I have benefited from various support. The University Committee on Research and Creative Activity at the University of Nebraska at Omaha funded three field work sessions in Czechia to conduct interviews and research for this book.

Variety of Development Qiushi Feng, 2017-09-22 This book examines China, the world's largest auto market since 2008, and the story of how Chinese auto makers developed. It is the story of the Chinese economy in microcosm. It focuses on China's systemically important automobile sector. This book reveals how local institutions have moderated structural changes at national and global levels and consequently generated significant organizational diversity in the production sphere. This book begins with the intriguing observation that individual Chinese car makers have been evolving in different directions despite a shared context. What factors led to these diverse choices and positioning? It is the central aim of this book to explain the variety of institutional forms used by Chinese car manufacturers in navigating the market transition and answering the challenges posed by globalization.

Location Behaviour and Relationship Stability in International Business Networks Bart Kamp, 2006-12-05 This new book investigates how the relationships of international business networks (one buyer multiple suppliers) develop over time, looking at the geographical angle as well as an actor composition point of view. Bart Kamp presents a framework that reveals what business-to-business (b2b) factors explain buyer-supplier co-location patterns, making it possible to predict the geographical behaviour of suppliers and also assesses whether longevity is truly the deep-rooted feature of international b2b network relationships that it is often claimed to be.

Motoring the Future Engelbert Wimmer, 2011-11-30 The crisis in the auto industry has resulted in a race between Volkswagen as challenger and Toyota as tattered global market leader. Whether it is the German or the Japanese firm that takes pole position, the winner will change the balance of power in the automotive industry and lead the way to the automobiles of the future.
