Evaluation and Testing Pon Cuppaiyā, 2010 Resources in Education, 1995-12 ESOL Tests and Testing
Stephen Stoyneff, 2005 This volume describes how ESOL tests and test users have changed greatly in the past few decades. Some widely used ESOL tests have been revised with a number of new tests incorporating advances in computer technology. In addition, many more ESOL practitioners than in the past are responsible for selecting and using tests. Stephen Stoyneff and Carol A. Chapelle introduce teachers and administrators to the principles, methods, and vocabulary of language assessment. Twenty-one reviewers of ESOL tests consider test purpose, methods, and justification of their use in particular situations.

Ransdell, M.-L. Barbier, 2012-12-06 GERT RIJLAARSDAM University of Amsterdam Utrecht University the Netherlands Multilingualism is becoming the default in our global world. The present-day global citizens use different languages in different situations. Apart from their mother tongue, they learn languages that give them access to other regions, nations, and worlds. In all countries of the European Union, for instance, at least one foreign language is mandatory in secondary schools. Most students are taught English as a foreign language, the lingua franca in Europe. In large parts of the USA, students move from Spanish to English schooling. In parts of Canada, bilingual education is standard. In Catalonia, Spain, children learn Catalan and Spanish. In Hong Kong, English and Chinese. The smaller the world becomes, the more languages are used and learned. For writing process research, this development into multilingualism entails at least two challenges. First, of all, studying the relation between writing in L1 and L2 provides an opportunity for collaborative studies in different language settings. Second, the issue of generalization of findings comes to the fore. It becomes evident now that we have unjustly neglected this issue in writing process research. We forgot to ask whether it is feasible to talk about writing processes in general without referring to the language of the written texts and without taking into account the educational and linguistic culture in which these texts originate.
