Political Beethoven Nicholas Mathew, 2013 Political Beethoven explores Beethoven's music as an active participant in political life from the Napoleonic Wars to the present day Towards the Romantic Age Rudolf Neuhäuser, 2013-10-14 Russian literature between 1750 and the romantic age presents a confusing picture Various literary movements arose and existed side by side while new trends made themselves felt At no other time in the history of Russian literature was there a similar influx of widely disparate literary and intellectual influences from the West The complex evolution of literature is reflected in the area of literary classification Period terms have been used in great variety yet without general agreement as to the extent or even the nature of the trends described The essays of this study are devoted to two major literary trends of the 18th and early 19th century sentimentalism and preromanticism They aim to elucidate their evolution as well as at defining and describing the conceptual framework on which they rest Since the 18th century did not draw a sharp line between translated and original literature both have been included here Literary philosophical and general cultural influences from the West were of considerable importance for Russian literature The concepts motifs and themes which reached Russian writers in translations moulded their own original works The 18th century witnessed the formation of an adequate literary language which culminated in Karamzin's style The distinction of two stages in the development of sentimentalism as suggested here and the differentiation between both of them and a third literary trend preromanticism is an attempt to reflect adequately the rapid change in stylistic and poetic norms
