Summer Work For First Graders:

Teaching First Grade Min Hong, 2001-07 A mentor teacher shares insights strategies and lessons for teaching reading writing and math and laying the foundation for learning success Texas School Journal, 1905 Labnet Richard Ruopp, Shahaf Gal, Brian Drayton, Meghan Pfister, 2012-10-12 Connected by a computer telecommunications network ninth graders from eight high schools scattered thousands of miles across Alaska work together building a robot submarine to gather samples from the floor of Prince William Sound This is high school science as some teachers and educational reformers today envision it centered on student projects that encourage learning by doing supported by modern technology enriched by collaboration among students and teachers both face to face and far apart This example is drawn from LabNet a three year effort funded by the National Science Foundation The project was conducted by Technical Education Research Centers TERC a nonprofit educational organization dedicated to improving mathematics and science education Eventually reaching 562 teachers in 37 states Puerto Rico and American Samoa LabNet had a direct impact on their classroom practice In a follow up evaluation the majority said they had assigned their students more projects and had used LabNet s telecommunications network to exchange project ideas with other teachers This book is the story of LabNet as told by its editors with 14 additional essays on science projects both theoretical and practical by LabNet teachers and TERC staff

Latinos and Education Antonia Darder, Rodolfo D. Torres, Henry Gutiérrez, 1997 This reader establishes a clear link between educational practice and the structural dimensions which shape institutional life and calls for the development of a new language that moves beyond disciplinary and racialized categories of difference and structural inequality These highly accessible essays which achieve a useful balance of theory and practice discuss themes such as political economy historical views of Latinos and schooling identity the politics of language cultural democracy in the classroom community involvement and Latinos in higher education Report United States. Isler,2011-07

I quickly began to realize that regardless of race at the end of the day one's success in a particular organization depends on one's contribution to the objectives of that organization Therefore I had to create a win win for the organization The more I won the better I felt and the more productive I became for the organization In addition as a pioneer to my white peers I was representing all black America I was removing myths and preconceived notions about the intellectual capacity of blacks Separate water fountains for blacks were common in the South in the 1950s Marshall Isler III grew up in the Jim Crow South Despite the social pressure for him to stay in his place Isler forged ahead by obtaining a degree in engineering from Howard University and becoming one of few black officers in the navy at that time Little did he know these were just his first steps toward becoming An Unwitting Pioneer After forgoing a civil service super grade at 38 Isler joined Parametric the largest black construction management firm where he orchestrated a 17 million dollar parking garage deal with the city of Philadelphia From there he entered the world of entrepreneurship only to find that others expected him to stay in his place in business as well Follow Isler as he breaks boundaries blazes trails for the black businessman and finds God in An Unwitting Pioneer
