example and Gainder married an ambitious handsome young man New laws were made as slavery was abolished indentured labourers could now buy land and so Gainder and her husband prospered They bought large land holdings and had ten children to go with it Life in the late 1800s was happy and contented for the family as they melted into a multi religious and multi cultural society Gainder s five daughters married well to pliable husbands and her five boys were happy to live off their father s wealth Three generations later Gainder s granddaughter Little Sparrow married and began what was supposed to be a long and happy life with Victor a young man of means with two obsessions in his life his wife and cricket Three daughters later Little Sparrow died giving birth to a stillborn baby boy an event that had been predicted by a faqir thirty five years before Her daughter Carla my mother classy beautiful yet haughty and disdainful had a disastrous marriage to a wildly passionate man of humble means who loved her but could not leave his possessive mother They separated two weeks before my birth Mummy could not come to terms with her broken marriage and what people would say I became her punching bag and the reason for her lonely and miserable life I also had the terrible misfortune of being the spitting image of my father and no doubt destined to be a chip of the old block This book is a reflection on the first eighteen years of my life It was initially inspired by a deep need to reflect and put issues to rest as I entered middle age Apart from being emotionally therapeutic writing this book was a wonderful experience in self discovery I indulged in the memories that were sometimes happy sometimes thoughtful and reflective and at times so very sad Children are judgmental yet the most forgiving of human beings and while they may naturally love their parents unconditionally children may not always like what they see

The Complete Tradesman Nancy Cox, 2016-12-05 The Complete Tradesman redresses the relative paucity of studies on the history of retailing before 1800 Based upon extensive research into diverse trade sources Cox takes issue with the surprisingly resilient stereotype of the dull and out of date shopkeeper in the early modern period showing that the retailing sector was well adapted to the social and economic needs of the day and quick to exploit new opportunities Chapters cover not only distribution shop design customer relations and networks between tradesmen but also attitudes to retailing official controls and the response to novelty By throwing light on subjects hitherto overlooked and challenging existing whiggish preoccupations with progress towards modern retailing systems this study signals a new approach to the history of retailing The focus is placed on assessing how far tradesmen especially shopkeepers satisfied and stimulated contemporary desires for consumer goods

Schmidt,O. Linderkamp,2012-12-06 Decision making in modern obstetrics and perinatology is controlled by a variety of different factors but there is little doubt that in industrialized countries one of the most powerful single factors is the concern and fear of causing permanent brain damage in the unborn and newborn The dramatic increase in the rates of abdominal deliveries in many parts of the world is certainly rooted to a substantial part in the obstetrician s concern not so much about possible perinatal death but more so about permanent brain damage in surviving children This trend has been accelerated by the increasing number of litigations in connection with brain damage observed in many societies This problem itself has many aspects but it seems evident that litigation justified or unjustified is one modern expression of the human and social tragedy inflicted on individuals and families by the birth of a brain damaged child The medical social and human importance of the problem is in sharp contrast to the relative lack of scientific knowledge available This became very clear when the National Institutes of Health published the excellent review in 1985 on Prenatal and Perinatal Factors Associated with Brain Disorders and its editor J M
