Roadside MBA
Michael Mazzeo, Paul Oyer, Scott Schaefer, 2014-06-10 In this refreshingly different high toned business book three leading business school professors take to America's back roads in search of offbeat small businesses enterprises that hold valuable lessons for executives and entrepreneurs everywhere Bloomberg Businessweek While playing hooky from a conference in Boston a few years back three former colleagues from Northwestern's Kellogg School of Management hopped in a car and embarked on a life changing road trip They pulled into a shoe store in Maine and noticed that the sales help was unusually pushy After a few questions they discovered the store had a secret shopper program in which employees would be marked down if they were not sufficiently aggressive with customers A lightbulb went off Instead of teaching the tried and true case studies involving GE and Microsoft these three men decided to pull their heads out of their ivory towers and search for insights about product differentiation pricing brand management building a team and a host of other topics Why take your cues on employee compensation from Wall Street when you can learn from a Main Street company like Couer D Alene's best crime scene cleaner Want to learn about scaling a business Come meet Dr Burris the flying orthodontist who operates multiple profitable practices in rural Arkansas Spiced with vehicular mishaps and unexpected finds this is one business book you won't want to miss Seating and Wheeled Mobility Michelle L. Lange, Jean L. Minkel, 2024-12-30 Fully updated and expanded in its second edition Seating and Wheeled Mobility: A Clinical Resource Guide presents clinical assessment considerations when working with a person with a mobility disability. The book provides a wide spectrum of information from foundational information for those practitioners who are new to the field to in-depth population-specific information for practitioners who perhaps have not worked with a particular population in the past. The book is divided into sections each addressing a different area of clinical practice in wheelchair seating and mobility. The first section is an in-depth presentation of the assessment process and pressure management. The range of available seating supports is presented as part of the product selection process including matching the person's needs with available technology. The second section focuses on 24-hour postural care. Three types of sitters are presented: hands-free, hands-dependent, and prop sitters. Included is the most current method to measure and describe the seated person and related support surfaces needed when recommending a device. The third section lays the foundation for clinical decision making around the selection and fit of the most appropriate wheeled mobility device: manual power wheelchair or scooter. The fourth section provides in-depth clinical applications for each mobility category. On-time mobility for the very young, power seating, and mobility skills training are addressed. The fifth section provides population-specific clinical application of position, pressure management, and mobility for the pediatric, geriatric, and bariatric populations as well as persons with both degenerative and complex neuromuscular impairments. The sixth section presents additional considerations when working with persons who are aging with a disability, considerations of the environment of use, safe transport of a wheelchair, and the application of wheelchair standards in the clinic. Finally, measuring outcomes throughout the service provision process and a look at the past, present, and future of complex rehab technology is included. Richly illustrated throughout, this book has been carefully designed to support occupational and physical therapists, suppliers, distributors, and funders/payers who are interested in wheelchair seating and mobility assessment and applications.
