Global Economic Prospects, June 2015 The World Bank,2015-06-22 Global growth is expected to be 2.8 percent in 2015 but is expected to pick up to 3.2 percent in 2016. Growth in developing countries and some high income countries is set to disappoint again this year. The prospect of rising borrowing costs will compound the challenges many developing countries are facing as they adapt to an era of low commodity prices. Risks to this outlook remain tilted to the downside. This edition of Global Economic Prospects includes two Special Features that analyze the policy challenges raised by the two transitions in developing countries: the risks associated with the first U.S. central bank interest rate increase since 2006 and the implications of persistently low commodity prices for low income countries. Global Economic Prospects is a World Bank Group Flagship Report that examines global economic developments and prospects with a special focus on developing countries on a semiannual basis in January and June. The January edition includes in depth analyses of topical policy challenges faced by developing countries while the June edition contains shorter analytical pieces.

Legal Protection of Foreign Direct Investment. A Critical Assessment with Focus on South Africa and Zimbabwe Talkmore Chidede,2016-09 This study undertakes a critical assessment of the legal protection of foreign direct investments (FDI) in South Africa and Zimbabwe by determining their compliance with the international minimum standards, norms and/or best practices on the legal protection of FDI by host states. Firstly, the study argues that foreign investment is much needed in South Africa and Zimbabwe to improve economic growth and development, to create jobs and to increase their competitiveness. However, these benefits are not accrued automatically but rather host states need to create an enabling environment to receive such benefits. Thus, host states need to put an investment scheme into operation to guarantee the legal protection of foreign investments. South Africa and Zimbabwe have at large crafted and implemented investment laws and related policies which tend to be hostile towards foreign investments. Therefore, similar investment laws and related policies in both jurisdictions are analysed. This study will also offer recommendations for a legal investment which is not only flexible, friendly and favourable to foreign investment in South Africa and Zimbabwe but also advances their local economic policies.

African Canadian Leadership Tamari Kitossa, Erica S. Lawson, Philip S.S. Howard,2019-07-15 Challenging the myth of African Canadian leadership in crisis, this book opens a broad vista of inquiry into the many and dynamic ways leadership practices occur in Black Canadian communities. Exploring topics including Black women's contributions to African Canadian communities, the Black Lives Matter movement, Black LGBTQ HIV/AIDS advocacy, motherhood and grieving, mentoring and anti-racism, contributors appraise the complex history and contemporary reality of blackness and leadership in Canada. With Canada as a complex site of Black diasporas, contributors offer an account of multiple forms of leadership and suggest that through surveillance and disruption, practices of self-determined Black leadership are incompatible with and threatening to White structures of power in Canada. As a whole, African Canadian Leadership offers perspectives that are complex, non-aligned and in critical

Food Safety Standards in International Trade Onsando Osiemo, 2016-09-15 Food safety has become a major concern for consumers in the developed world and Europe in particular This has been highlighted by the recent spate of food scares ranging from the BSE mad cow crisis to Chinese melamine contamination of baby formula To ensure food safety throughout Europe stringent food safety standards have been put in place from farm to fork At the same time poor African countries in the COMESA rely on their food exports to the European market to achieve their development goals yet have difficulty meeting the EU food safety standards This book examines the impact of EU food safety standards on food imports from COMESA countries It also critically examines both EU and COMESA food safety standards in light of the WTO SPS Agreement and the jurisprudence of the WTO panels and Appellate Body The book makes ground breaking proposals on how the standards divide between the EU and the COMESA can be bridged and discusses the impact of EU food safety standards on food imports from poor African countries

New Public Management in Africa Benon C. Basheka, Lukamba-Muhiya. Tshombe, 2017-08-25 The administrative sciences have been dominated by a turn to managerial perspectives in the late 20th and early 21st centuries and in the spirit of this turn New Public Management or NPM promises to produce efficient responsible and client oriented public services The reforms carried out in the pursuit of New Public Management are often accompanied by great optimism and rapid enthusiastic steps toward implementation Even in highly developed industrial countries however these fundamental reforms often overlook the political and cultural contexts of the implementing country New Public Management in Africa Emerging Issues and Lessons provides much needed theoretical foundations for NPM reforms in the African context and reflects on the success of existing reforms in the development of several African states The individual contributions in this timely volume provide important analyses of academic discourse practical policy achievements and desiderata The book as a whole however provides a valuable impetus for public administration research in and on African states sharing findings on the results of reforms to date and adjustments required for these reforms to succeed For public administration researchers outside of Africa this book offers a review of New Public Management case studies that are unavailable or difficult to find elsewhere contributing much to the exchange between African and Western administration science research and demonstrating that African administrative research is well prepared to help resolve global challenges

2012 Global Food Policy Report International Food Policy Research Institute, 2013 This 2012 Global Food Policy Report is the second in an annual series that provides an in depth look at major food policy developments and events Initiated in response to resurgent interest in food security the series offers a yearly overview of the food policy developments that have contributed to or hindered progress in food and nutrition security It reviews what happened in food policy and why examines key challenges and opportunities shares new evidence and knowledge and highlights emerging issues In 2012 world food security remained vulnerable While talk about hunger and malnutrition was plentiful it remains to be seen whether current and past commitments to invest in agriculture food security and nutrition will be met New data from the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations suggest that the world will fall short of achieving the first Millennium Development Goal of halving the prevalence of undernutrition by 2015 Translating commitments into action is thus even more urgent put Africa does not have enough power Despite the abundant low carbon and low cost energy resources available to Sub Saharan Africa the region s entire installed electricity capacity at a little over 80 GW is equivalent to that of the Republic of Korea Looking ahead Sub Saharan Africa will need to ramp up its power generation capacity substantially The investment needed to meet this goal largely exceeds African countries already stretched public finances Increasing private investment is critical to help expand and improve electricity supply Historically most private sector finance has been channeled through privately financed independent power projects IPP supported by nonrecourse or limited recourse loans with long term power purchase agreements with the state utility or another off taker Between 1990 and 2014 IPPs have spread across Sub Saharan Africa and are now present in 17 countries Currently there are 125 IPPs with an overall installed capacity of 10.7 GW and investments of 24.6 billion However private investment could be much greater and less concentrated South Africa alone accounts for 67 IPPs 4.3 GW of capacity and 14.4 billion of investments the remaining projects are concentrated in a handful of countries The objective of this study is to evaluate the experience of IPPs and identify lessons that can help African countries attract more and better private investment At the core of this analysis is a reflection on whether IPPs have in fact benefited Sub Saharan Africa and how they might be improved The analysis is based primarily on in depth case studies carried out in five countries including Kenya Nigeria South Africa Tanzania and Uganda which not only have the most numerous but also among the most extensive experience with IPPs
