sub Saharan African countries have adopted gender budgeting Two countries that have achieved notable success in their efforts are Uganda and Rwanda both of which have integrated gender oriented goals into budget policies programs and processes in fundamental ways Other countries have made more limited progress in introducing gender budgeting into their budget making Leadership by the ministry of finance is critical for enduring effects although nongovernmental organizations and parliamentary bodies in sub Saharan Africa play an essential role in advocating for gender budgeting Zimbabwe Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States United States Department of State,2014-11-12 The country continues to experience a generalized HIV epidemic with an estimated 1 2 million HIV infected adults and children in 2011 and approximately 58 000 deaths each year Social cultural and economic factors contributing to HIV transmission include transactional sex multiple and concurrent partners alcohol abuse low awareness of HIV infection status lack of ART use in undiagnosed individuals poor treatment adherence and low levels of male circumcision MC While prevalence among youth has dropped significantly it is worth noting that prevalence among girls was twice that of boys of the same age HIV is the leading cause of death among adults and accounts for over 27% of all deaths among mothers and infants Maternal mortality rate nearly tripled between 1994 and 2010 Zimbabwe s TB case rate 603 per 100 000 is one of the highest in the world The TB epidemic in Zimbabwe is largely HIV driven with a very high TB HIV co infection rate at 80% with an increasing number of MDR and XDR cases TB is the second leading cause of adult morbidity and mortality in Zimbabwe National Response The National AIDS Council NAC and the Ministry of Health and Child Welfare MOHCW lead the national HIV AIDS response and have outlined their goals in Zimbabwe National Strategic Plan ZNASPII 2011 2015 While the level of institutional leadership within the MOHCW is high in terms of technical direction and policy setting the capacity for implementation continues to be limited For the MOHCW low capacity is largely an outcome of limited national resources for programming which affects its capacity to deploy and adequately train sufficient experienced health professionals provide adequate commodities and provide a high level of monitoring and supervision to ensure high quality service delivery As such donor resources have been essential to national prevention care treatment and health systems strengthening HSS efforts The majority of HIV AIDS related activities are donor funded Nevertheless Zimbabwe has not received the magnitude of donor funding that countries with similar HIV burden have been fortunate to access Zimbabwe is facing potential critical shortages of key inputs to achieve ambitious goals particularly in the areas of treatment prevention of mother to child transmission PMTCT and MC Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations,2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events   Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh,2010-04-16   Host Bibliographic Record for Boundwith Item Barcode 38888110806340 and Others ,2013   Ethiopia Operational Plan Report Fy 2013 United States United States Department of State,2014-11-12 With 82 million people Ethiopia is the second most populous country in Sub Saharan Africa Despite impressive economic growth Ethiopia remains a low income country with a real per capita income of US 351 and 39% of the population living below the international poverty line of 1 25 day According to the UN Human Development Index 2012 Ethiopia ranks 174 out of 187 countries on both the overall index and the per capita GNI Gross National Income It is also one of the least urbanized countries with 82% of the population living in rural areas In 2010 Ethiopia launched a five year Growth and Transformation Plan GTP which envisages an annual Gross Domestic Product GDP base growth case scenario of 11% and a high growth case scenario of 14 9% Improving the quality of social services and infrastructure ensuring macroeconomic stability and enhancing productivity in agriculture and manufacturing are major objectives of the plan The high growth rate has been offset by high inflation in recent years Year on year inflation peaked at 64% in July 2008 the second highest in Sub Saharan Africa after Zimbabwe In 2012 the situation had apparently improved as the inflation rate had dropped from 35 9% in January to 15 6% by December 2012 The Health Sector Development Plan IV HSDPIV and the Strategic Plan for Intensifying Multisectoral HIV and AIDS Response SPMII outline their contributions towards the GTP The death a few months back of Prime Minister Meles has led to a change in leadership The new Minister of Health leads a young team and is looking to develop his own legacy after the charismatic leadership of the former Minister Dr Tewodros Adhanom who became Foreign Minister in December 2012 The HIV AIDS situation in Ethiopia continues to be characterized by a mixed epidemic with significant heterogeneity across geographic areas urban vs rural and population groups The 2011 Ethiopia Demographic and Health Survey EDHS found HIV prevalence at 1 5% nationally compared to 2 4% according to the formerly accepted Single Point Estimate Comparison with 2005 EDHS data suggest stable low HIV prevalence of 0 6% in rural areas but substantial declines from 7 7% to 4 2% in urban areas Routine biannual antenatal surveillance confirms sustained declines in HIV prevalence in both urban and peri urban areas up through the most recent estimate published for 2009 There are contrasts in prevalence across regions ranging from 6 5% in Gambella and 5 2% in Addis Ababa to 0 9% in SNNP residence types 4 2% urban versus 0 6% rural and gender 1 9% for women vs 1 0% for men Prevalence among 15 24 years has also significantly declined from 12 4% in 2001 to 2 6% in 2009 SPECTRUM projections combining DHS and ANC data estimate a rapidly declining mixed epidemic where incidence has fallen to 0 03% a 60% reduction since the introduction of PEPFAR in Ethiopia in 2005 Only Gambella region in southwestern Ethiopia with less than 0 5 percent of Ethiopia s population of 82 million showed a net increase in HIV prevalence over the same period and a worrying 9% prevalence among women aged 15 24 years At the same time projected national incidence rates were substantially lower than previously estimated with just over 20 000 new cases in 2012 compared to over 134 000 according to the former Single Point Estimate although the country retains a substantial burden for secondary prevention and treatment with an estimated 734 000 people currently living with HIV in 2013 According to SPECTRUM 70% of projected new infections in 2013 will come from sexual transmission which is disproportionately low compared with other countries This may be attributable to the relative successes with prevention of sexual transmission and high treatment coverage compared with relative lack of success with prevention of vertical transmission   AIDS Operational Plan Brian L.
