2017 Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition in Africa Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-04-17 This year s edition of the Africa Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition reports that after a prolonged decline hunger appears to be on the rise In sub Saharan Africa there were about 224 million undernourished people in sub Saharan Africa in 2016 up from 200 million in 2015 In many countries the worsening situation in 2015 and 2016 can be attributed to adverse climatic conditions often linked to the El Ni o phenomenon resulting in poor harvests and the loss of livestock Conflict sometimes in combination with drought or floods also contributed to severe food insecurity in several countries Lower commodity prices and a difficult global economic environment have furthermore contributed to the worsening food security situation The worrying trend in undernourishment is not yet reflected in the series of indicators referring to nutritional outcomes in the region with the prevalence of stunting and wasting for children under the age of five continuing to decline gradually However progress towards the World Health Assembly global nutrition targets has been generally poor While a relatively large proportion of countries are on track to meeting the target for overweight in children the rates for adult obesity are soaring in all regions and are especially high in Southern Africa The report also finds that across the board countries have developed and are developing policy frameworks and investment plans that are aligned or efforts are being made to align them with the goals of the Malabo Declaration and SDG 2 Through CAADP policy processes are coherent and this initiative has raised the profile of agriculture and heavily influenced agricultural policy at regional and national levels However the worrying trends in undernourishment underline the need for even greater efforts to achieve the SDG 2 by 2030 The thematic part of the report focuses on the food security and nutrition conflict nexus Conflict is not only an increasingly important cause of food insecurity and malnutrition but food insecurity and malnutrition can also become conflict multipliers Addressing the causes of conflicts and supporting food security and livelihoods can help build resilience to conflict and contribute to sustaining peace

Democracy, Elections, and Constitutionalism in Africa Charles M. Fombad,Nico Steytler,2021-03-18 The third wave of democracy that reached African shores at the end of the Cold War brought with it a dramatic decline from 1990 onwards in dictatorships military regimes one party governments and presidents for life Multiparty democracy was at the core of the constitutional revolutions that swept through most of Africa in those watershed years However that wave is either losing momentum or receding or being reversed in its entirety This volume examines democracy and elections in Africa a focus motivated by two concerns First after 30 years it is important to take stock of the state of constitutional democracy on the continent The democratic gains of the 1990s and 2000s seem to be falling by the wayside with the evidence mounting that regimes are concealing authoritarianism under the veneer of elections doing so in an international context where populist regimes are on the rise and free and fair multiparty elections are consequently no longer a given It is becoming a battle to protect and retain constitutional democracy The second reason for this volume s focus on democracy and elections is that multiparty democracy is essential for the proper functioning of the state in addressing the major problems facing Africa internal conflict inequality and lack of development and poor governance and corruption The focus of this volume is thus on how competitive politics or multiparty democracy can be realized and how through competition such politics could lead to better policy and practice outcomes
