Ucko,2005-08-10 Theory in Archaeology tackles important questions about the diversity in archaeological theory and practice which face the discipline in the 1990s What is the relationship between theory and practice How does World archaeological theory differ from European Can one be a good practitioner without theory This unique book brings together contributors from many different countries and continents to provide the first truly global perspective on archaeological theory They examine the nature of material culture studies and look at problems of ethnicity regionalism and nationality They consider too another fundamental of archaeological inquiry can our research be objective or must the past always be a relativistic construction Theory in Archaeology is an important book whose authors bring together very different perceptions of the past Its wide scope and interest will attract an international readership among students and academics alike Zimbabwe Deborah Helen Potts, Deborah Potts, 1993 State, 1987 Food Cultures of the World

Encyclopedia Ken Albala, 2011-05-25 This comprehensive reference work introduces food culture from more than 150 countries and cultures around the world including some from remote and unexpected peoples and places From babka to baklava to the groundnut stew of Ghana food culture can tell us where we ve been and maybe even where we re going Filled with succinct yet highly informative entries the four volume Food Cultures of the World Encyclopedia covers all of the planet s nation states as well as various tribes and marginalized peoples Thus in addition to coverage on countries as disparate as France Ethiopia and Tibet there are also entries on Roma Gypsies the Maori of New Zealand and the Saami of northern Europe There is even a section on food in outer space detailing how and what astronauts eat and how they prepare for space travel as far as diet and nutrition are concerned Each entry offers information about foodstuffs meals cooking methods recipes eating out holidays and celebrations and health and diet Vignettes help readers better understand other cultures while the inclusion of selected recipes lets them recreate dishes from other lands Education, Training and Agricultural Development in Zimbabwe Anders Närman,1991 Canadians in the Third World Canadian International Malaria on the Move Kundai Manamere, 2025-04-01 Malaria on the Move explores the Development Agency, 1982 socioeconomic aspects of endemic malaria in the southeastern lowveld of Zimbabwe The book provides a historical analysis of malaria control and eradication programs in Rhodesia and independent Zimbabwe from the late nineteenth century to 2015 Kundai Manamere draws connections between malaria epidemiology and human mobility relating to large and small scale farming labor migration colonial displacement war and rural to urban movements She examines how circular labor migration and rural travel influence the risk of malaria for individuals and communities and shows how migration and travel have spread the disease and impeded control efforts More importantly the book demonstrates that the need to travel for work is an indicator of a local hierarchy of priorities It reaffirms the urgent need for partners in malaria control to consider local socioeconomic factors in the design and implementation of intervention programs. The inclusion of local contexts perspectives and voices in formulating national and global public health policies and interventions is critical to addressing public noncooperation To date biomedical studies of malaria outnumber socioeconomic and political studies of the disease Manamere advocates for a multipronged approach that goes beyond standard scientific research methods Her approach incorporates how socioeconomic considerations of recipient communities influence malaria epidemiology local perceptions of the disease and responses to interventions This context is particularly important for understanding why malaria has remained a global health challenge and why so many interventions have failed Scientifically malaria is a disease of the landscape and its ecological complexity poses challenges to its eradication Yet biological and ecological landscapes are not exclusive factors in the spread of disease as Manamere demonstrates the socioeconomic environment is equally important Resource Teachers in Zimbabwe Scott Raymond Johnston, 2000 Iron, Gender, and Power Eugenia W.

from male transformative processes and in so doing has written a notable and most enjoyable book African History Herbert examines with great care and thoroughness the relationships between gender and power and the rationales that give them social form Her analytical ability is outstanding Patrick McNaughton This book is a well written and essential study of the place of belief in African material culture International Journal of African Historical Studies Herbert relates the beliefs and practices associated with iron working in African cultures to other transformative activities chiefly investiture hunting and pottery making to propose a gender age based theory of power The Times Index ,2000 Indexes the Times and its supplements
