The Human Brand Chris Malone, Susan T. Fiske, 2013-09-10 Why we choose companies and brands in the same way that we unconsciously perceive judge and behave toward one another People everywhere describe their relationships with brands in a deeply personal way we hate our banks love our smartphones and think the cable company is out to get us What's actually going on in our brains when we make these judgments Through original research customer loyalty expert Chris Malone and top social psychologist Susan Fiske discovered that our perceptions arise from spontaneous judgments on warmth and competence the same two factors that also determine our impressions of people We see companies and brands the same way we automatically perceive judge and behave toward one another As a result to achieve sustained success companies must forge genuine relationships with customers And as customers we have a right to expect relational accountability from the companies and brands we support Applies the social psychology concepts of warmth what intentions others have toward us and competence how capable they are of carrying out those intentions to the way we perceive and relate to companies and brands Features in depth analyses of companies such as Hershey's Domino's Lululemon Zappos Amazon Chobani Sprint and more Draws from original research evaluating over 45 companies over the course of 10 separate studies The Human Brand is essential reading for understanding how and why we make the choices we do as well as what it takes for companies and brands to earn and keep our loyalty in the digital age Gower Handbook of Customer Service Peter Murley,1997 This new Gower Handbook covers an area of management that is now regarded as fundamental to the success of any organization whether it is in the private or the public sector A team of experienced professionals and practising managers have pooled their expertise to provide nearly 50 chapters of current best practice in all aspects of customer service management making this a valuable addition to the renowned Gower Handbook series

Marketing God to Teens Ryan J. Doeller, 2010-11-29 As companies such as Coca Cola and Toyota respectively become increasingly prominent through self promotion and fierce competition for the attention and allegiance of the teenage demographic by contrast church attendance amongst young people in the West is in decline These companies invest considerable resources in finding ways to market their products in ways that appeal to young people distinguishing their products from those of their competitors and ensuring long term brand loyalty through providing customer satisfaction The potential impact of the continuation of these trends compels us to address the controversial question of whether and to what extent the church could learn from the marketing strategies of secular organizations and apply their techniques in order to address the diminishing interest of young people in Christianity
