Understanding Neighbourhood Dynamics New Insights For Neighbourhood Effects Research:

Understanding Neighbourhood Dynamics Maarten van Ham, David Manley, Nick Bailey, Ludi Simpson, Duncan Maclennan, 2012-09-27 This rare interdisciplinary combination of research into neighbourhood dynamics and effects attempts to unravel the complex relationship between disadvantaged neighbourhoods and the life outcomes of the residents who live therein. It seeks to overcome the notorious difficulties of establishing an empirical causal relationship between living in a disadvantaged area and the poorer health and well-being often found in such places. There remains a widespread belief in neighbourhood effects that living in a poorer area can adversely affect residents' life chances. These chapters caution that neighbourhood effects cannot be fully understood without a profound understanding of the changes to and selective mobility into and out of these areas. Featuring fresh research findings from a number of countries and data sources including from the UK, Australia, Sweden and the USA, this book offers fresh perspectives on neighbourhood choice and dynamics as well as new material for social scientists, geographers and policy makers alike. It enriches neighbourhood effects research with insights from the closely related but currently largely separate literature on neighbourhood dynamics. Neighbourhood Effects or Neighbourhood Based Problems? David Manley, Maarten van Ham, Nick Bailey, Ludi Simpson, Duncan Maclennan, 2013-06-26 This edited volume critically examines the link between area-based policies, neighbourhood-based problems and neighbourhood effects. The idea that living in disadvantaged neighbourhoods has a negative effect on residents' life chances over and above the effect of their individual characteristics. Over the last few decades, Western governments have persistently pursued area-based policies to fight such effects despite a lack of evidence that they exist or that these policies make a difference. The first part of this book presents case studies of perceived neighbourhood-based problems in the domains of crime, health, educational outcomes and employment. The second part of the book presents an international overview of the policies that different governments have implemented in response to these neighbourhood-based problems and discusses the theoretical and conceptual processes behind place-based policy making. Case studies are drawn from a diverse range of countries including the United Kingdom, The Netherlands, Australia, Canada and the USA. Research

Handbook on Urban Sociology Miguel A. Martínez, 2024-04-12 Emphasising the social, critical and situated dimensions of the urban, this comprehensive Research Handbook presents a unique collection of theoretical and empirical perspectives on urban sociology. Bringing together expert contributors from across the world, it provides a rich overview and research agenda for contemporary urban sociological scholarship. Ethnic Spatial Segregation in European Cities Hans Skifter

Andersen, 2019-05-15 This book provides the first in-depth interpretation of how to understand the causes of ethnic residential segregation across Western European countries and the USA. In many countries, ethnic minorities have obtained low-quality housing and may be concentrated in certain parts of cities. This book asks to what extent ethnic segregation can be assigned to special preferences for housing and neighbourhoods among ethnic minorities. Is it the behaviour of the native majority or is it a result of housing and urban policies Ethnic segregation differs greatly across European countries and cities Chapters discuss the extent to which these differences can be explained by welfare state systems levels of immigration and the ethnic composition of minorities The book also considers the impact of housing policy and the spatial structure of urban housing markets created by urban planning and policies This book will appeal to teachers students and researchers working with segregation urban sociology and geography It will also be valuable to civil servants in central and local governments who are working with measures to combat ethnic segregation and its consequences

Cities, Economic Inequality and Justice Edwin Buitelaar, Anet Weterings, Roderik Ponds, 2017-07-28 Increasing economic inequality in cities and the spatial translation of that into more segregated neighbourhoods is top of the political agenda in developed countries While the overall living standards have increased in the last century the focus has now shifted from poverty to economic differences with a particular focus on the gap between the very poor and the ultra rich The authors observe a common view among policy makers and researchers alike that urban economic inequality and segregation are increasing that this increase is bad and that money and people in the case of segregation need to be redistributed in response In six compact chapters this book enriches and broadens the debate Chapters bring together the literature on the social effects of economic inequality and segregation and question whether there are sizable effects and what their direction positive or negative is The often conflated concepts of economic inequality and segregation and social injustice is disentangled and the moral implications are reflected on The book is essential reading for students and academics of Planning Theory Planning Ethics Urban Geography Urban Economics Economic Geography and Urban Sociology

Rethinking Neighborhoods William A.V. Clark, 2024-05-02 Although neighborhoods are sometimes perceived as just a backdrop to our lives there is considerable evidence that they are central to our sense of wellbeing and in the functioning of the city Rethinking Neighborhoods is about these areas of geography what we know about how neighborhoods function why they matter and how we chose where to live

Handbook of Urban Segregation Sako Musterd, 2020-03-28 The Handbook of Urban Segregation scrutinises key debates on spatial inequality in cities across the globe It engages with multiple domains including residential places public spaces and the field of education In addition it tackles crucial group dimensions across race class and culture as well as age groups the urban rich middle class and gentrified households This timely Handbook provides a key contribution to understanding what urban segregation is about why it has developed what its consequences are and how it is measured conceptualised and framed

Arrival Neighborhoods in Europe since the mid-19th Century David Templin, 2024-08-26 This book uses the concept of arrival spaces to examine the relationship between migration processes social infrastructures and the transformation of urban spaces in Europe since the mid 19th century Case studies cover cities from London to Palermo and from Antwerp to St Petersburg including both metropolises and small towns The chapters examine the emergence of settlement patterns the functioning of arrival infrastructures and the public representations of neighborhoods which have been shaped by internal or international migrations By understanding these neighborhoods as spaces of arrival and as infrastructural hubs this volume offers a new perspective on the profound impact of migration on European cities in modern and contemporary history This volume makes a valuable contribution to both migration research and urban history and will be of interest to researchers and students studying the relationship between cities and migration in Europe's past and present

Neighborhood Decline Ronald van Kempen, Gideon Bolt, Maarten van Ham, 2018-10-18 The global financial and economic crisis that hit the world since 2008 has affected the lives of many people all over the world and resulted in declining incomes rising unemployment foreclosures forced residential moves and cut backs in government expenditure The extent to which the crisis has affected urban neighborhoods and has led to rising intra urban inequalities has not yet received much attention The implemented budget cuts and austerity programs of national and local governments are likely to have hit some neighborhoods more than others The authors of this book which come from a variety of countries and disciplines show that the economic crisis has affected poor neighborhoods more severely than more affluent ones The tendency of the state to retreat from these neighborhoods has negative consequences for their residents and may even nullify the investments that have been made in many poor neighborhoods in the recent past This book was originally published as a special issue of Urban Geography

Entrepreneurship in Cities Colin Mason, Darja Reuschke, Stephen Syrett, Maarten van Ham, 2015-12-18 Entrepreneurship in Cities focuses on the neglected role of the home and the residential neighbourhood context for entrepreneurship and businesses within cities The overall objective of the book is to develop a new interdisciplinary perspective that links entrepreneurship research with neighbourhood and urban studies A key contribution is to show that entrepreneurship in cities is more than agglomeration economies and high tech clusters This is the first book to connect entrepreneurship with neighbourhoods and homes recognising that business activity in the city is not confined to central business districts high streets and industrial estates but is also found in residential neighbourhoods It highlights the importance of home based businesses for the economy of cities These often overlooked types of businesses and workers significantly contribute to the buzz that makes cities favourable places to live and work

Advanced Introduction to Housing Studies William A.V. Clark, 2021-02-26 This timely Advanced Introduction explores the links between housing and households including the complex process of how people sort themselves into houses and neighborhoods It covers the choices that households make why these choices are made and the constraints faced in achieving housing aspirations with a particular focus on the contemporary difficulties facing young adults and those unable to buy a house despite a reasonable income

Household Mobility in America Brian Joseph Gillespie, 2016-12-22 This book provides an interdisciplinary analysis of the correlates and consequences of residential relocation Drawing on multiple nationally representative data sets the book explores historic patterns and current trends in household mobility individuals mobility related decisions and the individual family and community outcomes associated with moving These sections inform later discussions of mobility related policy practice and directions for future research Agent-Based Models Nigel Gilbert,2019-11-15 Agent based simulation has become increasingly popular as a modeling approach in the social sciences because it enables researchers to build models where individual entities and their interactions are directly represented The Second Edition of Nigel Gilbert s Agent Based Models introduces this technique considers a range of methodological and theoretical issues shows how to design an agent based model with a simple example offers some practical advice about developing verifying and validating agent based models and finally discusses how to plan an agent based modelling project publish the results and apply agent based modeling to formulate and evaluate social and economic policies Smoking Geographies Ross Barnett,Graham

Moon,Jamie Pearce,Lee Thompson,Liz Twigg,2017-03-13 Smoking Geographies provides a research led assessment of the impact of geographical factors on smoking The contributors uncover how geography can show us not only why people smoke but also broader issues of tobacco control providing deeper clarity on how smoking and tobacco is governed The text centres on one of the most important public health issues worldwide and a major determinant of preventable mortality and morbidity in developed and developing countries Records the outcomes of a long term research collaboration that brings a geographical lens to smoking behaviour Uncovers how geography can play a part in understanding not only why people smoke but also broader issues of tobacco control Provides a deeper understanding of how smoking and tobacco is governed regarding where people may smoke but also more subtle governance as a climate is produced in which smoking becomes denormalised Brings both quantitative and qualitative perspectives to bear on this major source of mortality and morbidity

Geographies of Gender-Based Violence Hannah Bows,Bianca Fileborn,2022-09-30 What role does physical and virtual space play in gender based violence GBV Experts from the Global North and South use wide ranging case studies from public harassment in India and Kenya to harassment on Twitter to examine how spaces can facilitate or prevent GBV and showcase strategies for prevention and intervention Students and academics from a range of disciplines will discover how existing research connects with practice and policy developments the current gaps in research and a future agenda for GBV studies

Social-Spatial Segregation Christopher D. Lloyd,Ian G. Shuttleworth,David W. Wong,2015-08-19 This edited volume bringing together leading researchers from the United States the United Kingdom and Europe offers a new approach to conceptualising segregation

The Fall and Rise of Social Housing Becky Tunstall,2020-02-12 Drawing on a unique archive spanning the lifetime of twenty council estate projects in the UK and using hundreds of resident voices this book reveals the secrets of council housing s failures and successes and the reasons for them Bringing to light the complex variety of the lived experiences of residents it shows how estate pathways were predetermined by factors such as location design and date as well as by their local and national social economic and political contexts The book highlights what can be learned from some of the successes of less successful housing projects and provides lessons for building sustainable communities in the twenty first century Neighbourhood Effects Research: New Perspectives Maarten van Ham,David Manley,Nick

Bailey, Ludi Simpson, Duncan MacLennan, 2011-11-22 Over the last 25 years a vast body of literature has been published on neighbourhood effects the idea that living in more deprived neighbourhoods has a negative effect on residents life chances over and above the effect of their individual characteristics The volume of work not only reflects academic and policy interest in this topic but also the fact that we are still no closer to answering the question of how important neighbourhood effects actually are There is little doubt that these effects exist but we do not know enough about the causal mechanisms which produce them their relative importance in shaping individual s life chances the circumstances or conditions under which they are most important or the most effective policy responses Collectively the chapters in this book offer new perspectives on these questions and refocus the academic debate on neighbourhood effects The book enriches the neighbourhood effects literature with insights from a wide range of disciplines and countries The Wiley-Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies Anthony M. Orum, 2019-04-15 Provides comprehensive coverage of major topics in urban and regional studies Under the guidance of Editor in Chief Anthony Orum this definitive reference work covers central and emergent topics in the field through an examination of urban and regional conditions and variation across the world It also provides authoritative entries on the main conceptual tools used by anthropologists sociologists geographers and political scientists in the study of cities and regions Among such concepts are those of place and space geographical regions the nature of power and politics in cities urban culture and many others The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies captures the character of complex urban and regional dynamics across the globe including timely entries on Latin America Africa India and China At the same time it contains illuminating entries on some of the current concepts that seek to grasp the essence of the global world today such as those of Friedmann and Sassen on global cities It also includes discussions of recent economic writings on cities and regions such as those of Richard Florida Comprised of over 450 entries on the most important topics and from a range of theoretical perspectives Features authoritative entries on topics ranging from gender and the city to biographical profiles of figures like Frank Lloyd Wright Takes a global perspective with entries providing coverage of Latin America and Africa India and China and the US and Europe Includes biographies of central figures in urban and regional studies such as Doreen Massey Peter Hall Neil Smith and Henri Lefebvre The Wiley Blackwell Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Studies is an indispensable reference for students and researchers in urban and regional studies urban sociology urban geography and urban anthropology Environment & Planning , 2012
