and Egypt the two main epicentres of the Arab Spring Part III moves to two specific rights in the same countries from the twofold perspective of the Constitutions and international law the freedom from interference in one's intimate life with particular regard to homosexuality and the freedom of holding and expressing nonconventional beliefs deemed unacceptable from the point of view of traditional Islam These issues have been chosen as representative of the most controversial still considered taboo in both legal and social terms hence at the fringes of the debate on individual freedoms Focusing on two overlooked and underexplored issues the work thus pushes the boundaries of the human rights discourse in Muslim contexts
