The Mind's Eye Oliver Sacks, 2010-10-26 NATIONAL BESTSELLER
 From the poet laureate of medicine, The New York Times and the author of the classic The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat, comes a fascinating exploration of the remarkable, unpredictable ways that our brains cope with the loss of sight by finding rich new forms of perception. Elaborate and gorgeously detailed, again and again Sacks invites readers to imagine their way into minds unlike their own, encouraging a radical form of empathy. Los Angeles Times: "With compassion and insight, Dr. Oliver Sacks again illuminates the mysteries of the brain by introducing us to some remarkable characters, including Pat, who remains a vivacious communicator despite the stroke that deprives her of speech, and Howard, a novelist who loses the ability to read." Sacks investigates those who can see perfectly well but are unable to recognize faces, even those of their own children. He describes totally blind people who navigate by touch and smell, and others who ironically become hyper-visual. Finally, he recounts his own battle with an eye tumor and the strange visual symptoms it caused. As he has done in classics like The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat and Awakenings, Dr. Sacks shows us that medicine is both an art and a science, and that our ability to imagine what it is to see with another person's mind is what makes us truly human.

Practical Pharmacology in Rehabilitation Lynette Carl, Joseph Gallo, Peter Johnson, 2014

Singing For Life Gregory Barz, 2014-06-17
 Efforts within the past decade to address the HIV/AIDS pandemic in sub-Saharan Africa have dealt with HIV/AIDS principally as a medical concern, despite the fact that doctors continue to be confronted with the complex relationship of the disease to broader social issues. When medical and governmental institutions fail, artists step in. Contemporary performances in Uganda often focus on gender and health-related issues specific to women and youths, in which song texts warn against risky sexual environments or unprotected sexual behavior. Music, dance, and drama are principal tools of local initiatives that disseminate information, mobilize resources, and raise societal consciousness regarding issues related to HIV/AIDS. Through case studies, song texts, interviews, and testimonies, Singing for Life: HIV/AIDS and Music in Uganda examines the links between the decline in Uganda's infection rate and grassroots efforts that make use of music, dance, and drama. Only when supported and encouraged by such performances, drawing on localized musical traditions, have medical initiatives taken root and flourished in local healthcare systems. Gregory Barz shows how music can be both a mode of promoting health and a force for personal therapy, presenting a cultural analysis of hope and healing.

The Plague Years Michael Titlestad, Karl van

Wyk, Grace A. Musila, 2022-08-15 The Plague Years collects scholarly and essayistic reflections on literary visual and sonic representations of the COVID 19 and other pandemics These are placed alongside poetry and short fiction written in the first two years of quarantine or isolation This range expresses the intellectual and imaginative struggle and ingenuity entailed in coming to terms with the rampant spread of disease and its emotional cultural and political consequences The contributions are from diverse contexts Africa from Egypt to South Africa China Japan the US and Scandinavia They consider some of the array of contemporary engagements poems translated from Mandarin about the traumas of the frontline Chinese calligraphic poetry printed on cartons of PPE comments on the literary history of representing epidemics and pandemics political analyses of the post truth present and the role of life writing and gaming in an interrupted world Given the generative and creative obliquity of many of its parts this collection shifts how one thinks about the diseased present and the archival pasts on which it draws The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of English Studies in Africa

Mnemonology James B. Worthen, R. Reed Hunt, 2011-02-25 This book bridges the gap between basic memory research and mnemonic applications through a careful analysis of the processes that underlie effective memory aids The book traces the history of mnemonics examines popular techniques and discusses the current relevance of mnemonics to both psychological researchers and those seeking to improve their memory Using a unique approach termed mnemonology the authors seek not necessarily to promote specific mnemonic techniques but to provide information which will allow one to improve memory by creating their own mnemonics

The Man Who Forgot How to Read Howard Engel, 2008-07-08 The remarkable journey of an award winning writer struck with a rare and devastating affliction that prevented him from reading even his own writing One hot midsummer morning novelist Howard Engel picked up his newspaper from his front step and discovered he could no longer read it The letters had mysteriously jumbled themselves into something that looked like Cyrillic one moment and Korean the next While he slept Engel had experienced a stroke and now suffered from a rare condition called alexia sine agraphia meaning that while he could still write he could no longer read Over the next several weeks in hospital and in rehabilitation Engel discovered that much more was affected than his ability to read His memory failed him and even the names of old friends escaped his tongue At first geography eluded him he would know that two streets met somewhere in the city but he couldn't imagine where Apples and grapefruit now looked the same. When he returned home he had trouble remembering where things went and would routinely find cans of tuna in the dishwasher and jars of pencils in the freezer. Despite his disabilities, Engel prepared to face his dilemma. He contacted renowned neurologist Dr. Oliver Sacks for advice and visited him in New York City, forging a lasting friendship. He bravely learned to read again. And in the face of tremendous obstacles, he triumphed in writing a new novel. An absorbing and uplifting story filled with sly wit and candid insights. The Man Who Forgot How to Read will appeal to anyone fascinated by the mysteries of the mind on and off the page. The Art of Personalization Barrett Williams, ChatGPT, 2025-08-09. Unlock the secret to gifts that stay with someone long after the moment passes. The Art of Personalization reveals a practical, memory-driven approach to gifting that turns kindness into lasting connection. If you've ever wished your gestures felt more meaningful, this guide shows you how to design experiences, not just presents that honor who someone is and celebrate your shared moments. From listening as a design tool to mapping memories, this book walks you through a step-by-step process to craft gifts that fit real lives. Learn to read subtext, uncover values, and translate conversations into concrete, personal ideas. You'll move from vague intentions to tangible concepts you can prototype, test, and refine with confidence. Within its pages, you'll discover a complete toolkit for turning imagination into action: memory maps, prompts, templates, and checklists that streamline the creative process. Explore narrative gifts that weave a person's story into memorable experiences; explore sensory design to engage sight, sound, touch, smell, and even taste; and experiment with low-risk prototypes that scale into meaningful traditions. You'll also find practical guidance on budget, timing, and rituals, plus ethical considerations that ensure comfort, consent, and cultural sensitivity. When to go digital vs. physical, how to blend media into a cohesive moment, and how to sustain momentum with a personal gift system that fits into everyday life. Real-world case studies illustrate how ideas become heartfelt experiences, from memory quilts to audio letters and experience passports. This edition also includes a robust toolkit: templates, memory capture prompts, and budget and timeline sheets, plus a concise 30-day plan to get you started. If you're ready to turn generosity into a meaningful practice, this book is your companion. Begin building gifts that deepen connection today. Taking Away the Distance Miles

Roston, 2009-04-20. In this emotional story of hope and inspiration, an African boy orphaned by AIDS becomes a catalyst for AIDS orphans worldwide. Living in a shantytown in Kenya, Kevin Sumba's life was one of loneliness and hardship. Yet he was determined to get an education. Miles Roston, a documentary filmmaker, first met Kevin while making a film on AIDS orphans. He found that this particular boy touched his heart in a way he hadn't anticipated. Together, they set out to answer Kevin's questions about the AIDS epidemic and more specifically, Kevin's situation. Taking Away the Distance takes us on a singular journey as powerful policymakers and those working at a grassroots level deal with the direct and at times confronting questions of one boy. Along the way, we also meet people directly impacted by the epidemic and face their lives heroically, from children surviving homelessness on Nairobi's streets to a mother on her deathbed whose only thought is how to care for the children she will leave behind As Kevin and Roston form a bond of love and respect each learning from the other we discover just how much our own lives can change if we dare to help
