What A Terrible World What A Beautiful World:

The HTML of Cruciform Love John Frederick, Eric Lewellen, 2020-01-01 Despite an increasing portion of our lives being conducted online the topic of the internet is vastly underrepresented in the current literature on technology and theology The HTML of Cruciform Love challenges outdated misconceptions about internet theology and asserts that there is no topic more pertinent to our daily walk as contemporary followers of Jesus Christ than the theological implications of the internet age These twelve essays investigate the themes of community and character formation in the digital realm A host of interrelated sub themes are represented including the application of patristic theology to contemporary internet praxis a demonology of the internet and virtue ethics in cyberspace while other studies consider the influence of internet technology on aesthetics personhood and the self Together the essays work towards a collaborative constructive cruciform theology of the internet as something more than a supplementary component to our personal lives rather it is a vital medium for the digital communion of the saints through the HTML of cruciform love

Finding the Beat Nathan Hesselink, 2022-09-08 Finding the Beat explores humankind's ability propensity and enjoyment in finding the beat in live and recorded experiences of music making through the lens of entrainment the human capacity to perceive a beat and to synchronize to it Anyone who has attended a concert gone to a club or watched a sporting event has witnessed and or participated in tapping clapping or dancing along with a piece song or chant It doesn't matter who or where you are in the world as humans we spend a lot of time taking pleasure in matching our bodily movements with a perceived beat Drawing upon diverse examples from the North American and British rock repertoire Nathan Hesselink demonstrates that listeners are gripped in deep compelling and socially meaningful ways when musicians play with or against expectations set up by entrainment Via musicology music theory popular music studies ethnomusicology and cognitive neuroscience he illustrates the creative aesthetic and participatory pleasure and wonder afforded by our collective ability to find the beat
