doing or should be doing to enhance graduate economic opportunities and contribute to inclusive development The book will be highly relevant to students scholars and researchers in the fields of education and sociology particularly those with an interest in graduate employability Power Shift? Political Leadership and Social Media David Taras,Richard Davis,2019-12-09 Power Shift Political Leadership and Social Media examines how political leaders have adapted to the challenges of social media including Facebook Instagram Twitter and memes among other means of persuasion Established political leaders now use social media to grab headlines respond to opponents fundraise contact voters directly and organize their election campaigns Leaders of protest movements have used social media to organize and galvanize grassroots support and to popularize new narratives narratives that challenge and sometimes overturn conventional thinking Yet each social media platform provides different affordances and different attributes and each is used differently by political leaders In this book leading international experts provide an unprecedented look at the role of social media in leadership today Through a series of case studies dealing with topics ranging from Emmanuel Macron and Donald Trump s use of Twitter to Justin Trudeau s use of selfies and Instagram to how feminist leaders mobilize against stereotypes and injustices the authors argue that many leaders have found additional avenues to communicate with the public and use power This raises the question of whether this is causing a power shift in the relationship between leaders and followers Together the chapters in this book suggest new rules of engagement that leaders ignore at their peril The lack of systematic theoretically informed and empirically supported analyses makes Power Shift Political Leadership and Social Media an indispensable read for students and scholars wishing to gain new understanding on what social media means for leadership Creating the New African University ,2023-05-25 Creating the New African University grapples with the existence of African universities particularly in post independent Africa where Higher Education Institutions HEIs are supposed to live up to the expectations of being adaptive in dealing with prevalent complex dynamic contemporary and future challenges facing African societies The book tackles the issue of what ought to be done for African universities to maintain a structure and identity that ensures their relevance in Africa s development through generating and transforming knowledge into actions for the common good It engages issues within the context of how post colonial transformative obligations have been managed in light of the prevalent epistemological and pedagogical underpinnings that form the foundations of these universities as they seek to break from the clutches of colonial legacies This book further highlights an urgent need to do away with silos and embrace a multidisciplinary interdisciplinary transdisciplinary and cross disciplinary dialogical approach towards knowledge generation Such an approach is essential in efforts aimed at enhancing the sustainable reconfiguration of university structures and functions whilst linking knowledge produced to diverse social economic and political facets of African societies in ways that promote and sustain competitiveness in a rapidly globalising world beset with technological advancements British Education Index ,2003 Knobil and Neill's Physiology of Reproduction Tony M. Plant,Anthony J. Zeleznik,2014-11-15

The Fourth Edition of Knobil Neill continues to serve as a reference aid for research to provide the historical context to current research and most importantly as an aid for graduate teaching on a broad range of topics in human and comparative reproduction. In the decade since the publication of the last edition the study of reproductive physiology has undergone monumental changes. Chief among these advances are in the areas of stem cell development, signaling pathways, the role of inflammation in the regulatory processes in the various tissues, and the integration of new animal models which have led to a greater understanding of human disease. The new edition synthesizes all of this new information at the molecular, cellular, and organismal levels of organization and presents modern physiology in a more understandable and comparative context. The Fourth Edition has been extensively revised, reflecting new fundamental advancements in this rapidly advancing field. It provides a common language for researchers across the fields of physiology, endocrinology, and biology to discuss their understanding of reproduction. It saves academic researchers time in quickly accessing the very latest details on reproductive physiology as opposed to searching through thousands of journal articles.

Responsibility of Higher Education Systems

,2020-06-29 The evolving societal, political, and economic landscape has led to increased demands on higher education institutions to make their contribution and benefits to society more visible and, in many cases, with fewer public resources. This book contributes to the understanding of the responsibilities of Higher Education and the challenges posed to the production and circulation of knowledge. It raises questions about the role of higher education in society, its responsibility towards students and staff, and regarding its intended impact. The book brings together a range of topical papers and a diversity of perspectives: scientific investigations of reputed scholars; critical evidence-based papers of third space professionals and policymakers; perspectives on the daily practice and management of higher education institutions and systems. The variety of both content and contributors elevates the richness of the book and its relevance for a large audience. Contributors are: Victor M. H. Borden, Lex Borghans, Bruno Broucker, Hamish Coates, Gwilym Croucher, Lisa Davidson, Mark Engberg, Philipp Friedrich, Martina Gaisch, Solomon Gebreyohans, Gebru Ton Kallenberg, Kathi A.
