Many people are writing and creating based on ideas and concepts that are already out there. They are not trying to create something new, but rather to create something that is different from what is already out there. This is a very common way to create, and it is often the best way to create something that is truly original. The key is to find a unique perspective on a familiar topic, and to express that perspective in a way that is both clear and compelling. This is the essence of creative writing, and it is the heart of the creative process.
