The Monk A Romance English Edition:

Love, Mystery and Misery Coral Ann Howells, 2014-01-13 The current Gothic revival in literature and film encourages us to look again to the earliest Gothic novels written between 1790 and 1820 when Gothic was the most popular kind of fiction in England Dr Howells proposes a radical reassessment of these novels to emphasize their importance as experiments in imaginative writing Her object the study of feeling is central to Gothic for its spell consists in the feelings it arouses and exercises As pseudo historical fantasy Gothic fiction embodies contemporary neuroses especially sexual fears and repressions which run right through it and are basic to its conventions This study traces the effort to articulate these disconcerting emotions in symbol incident landscape and architecture The chronological design suggests developments in Gothic from the initial explorations of Mrs Radcliffe and M G Lewis through the Minerva Press novelists and Jane Austen's Northanger Abbey to new directions taken by C R Maturin in Melmoth the Wanderer and later by Charlotte Bronte whose Jane Eyre arguably the finest of Gothic novels places the earlier experiments in perspective

National Archetypes and Labour Subordination Antonio Ojeda-Avilés, 2023-10-30 Among the plethora of heroes of different significance religious artistic political etc national archetypes stand out because they represent the outstanding traits of their fellow citizens and at the same time serve as role models for them. How these archetypes are formed in some countries and what their specific features are constitutes the starting point for this study. The book then enters a second phase with the narration of their jobs as literary heroes culminating in a reflection on the possible effects that the archetype may have on the behaviour of workers and employers in the respective country. After the analysis of the five main European countries, the book undertakes a comparative study of other non-European archetypes where the profiles are quite different.
