Starehe Boys Centre And School Papers:

Kenyan Youth Education in Colonial and Post-Colonial Times Peter Otiato Ojiambo, 2017-08-03 This book examines Joseph Kamiru Gikubu's impact on Kenyan youth education. The author asserts that over his decades long career Gikubu played an active role in not only building and improving Kenyan youth education but also in demonstrating the role educational institutions play in imparting nation building skills. Gikubu's educational contributions were wide ranging and include both practical and theoretical aspects of education through his works in various juvenile rehabilitation programs and youth clubs as well as his insights on youth education and school leadership. Through Gikubu's educational work this volume interrogates Kenya's educational development transformation and entailed challenges. The book fills the gap in the dearth of African centered educational biographies and their role in shaping Africa's social political and economic spheres in both the colonial and post colonial period. It also addresses emerging scholarship in African educational biographies. Papers, 1967

Although Nairobi was a colonial construct with lasting negative repercussions the African population's impact on its history and development is often overlooked. This book shows how Africans took an active part in making use of the city and creating it and how they were far from being subjects in the development of a European colonial city. This re-interpretation of Nairobi's history suggests that the post colonial city is the result of more than unjust and segregative colonial planning. Merging historical documentation with extensive contemporary urban theory this book provides in depth knowledge of the key historical roles played by locals in the development of their city. It argues that the idea of agency a popular inroad to urban development today is not a current phenomenon but one that has always existed.

with its many social spatial and physical ramifications This is an ideal read for upper level undergraduate and graduate students studying the history of urban development and theories providing an in depth case study for reference The City Makers of Nairobi broaches interdisciplinary themes important to urban planners social scientists historians and those working with popular settlements in cities across the world Kenya, Bridging Ethnic Divides Wairimu Nderitu, 2018-12-12 The National Cohesion and Integration Commission NCIC was set up to facilitate and promote equality of opportunity good relations harmony and peaceful coexistence between persons of the different ethnic and racial communities of Kenya and to advise the Government on all aspects thereof after the violence that followed the December 2007 elections In Kenya Bridging Ethnic Divides A Commissioners Experience on Cohesion and Integration Commissioner Alice Wairimu Nderitu looks behind the scenes at the NCICs efforts to ensure peaceful co existence Such as working with elders mediating confidentially between political leaders at the highest levels and co founding and working as first Co Chair of Uwiano Platform for Peace a conflict prevention agency largely credited with leading efforts in ensuring peaceful processes during the 2010 Constitutional referendum and 2013 General elections The book tells of NCICs efforts in grappling with the seemingly intractable problem of managing the negative consequence of ethnic differences on questions such as Why is Kenya so ethnically polarised Why is an ethnic group the key defining factor in Kenyan politics What hope is there for an inclusive Kenya The book shows that positive policies and intra and inter ethnic spaces can be used to counter negative influences that lead to fear exclusion and violence The diversity of Kenyas ethnicities and races need not be a pretext for conflict but a source of truly national identity It proves that dialogue on understanding differences and commonalities leads to improved relationships and understanding on societal dynamics This in turn contributes to preventing and transforming conflicts through appropriate inclusion policies identifying entry points for change as well as opportunities to tackle the norms and behaviours that underpin structural disparities Kenya, Bridging Ethnic Divides Nderitu, Alice Wairimu, 2018-12-12 The National Cohesion and Integration Commission NCIC was set up to facilitate and promote equality of opportunity good relations harmony and peaceful coexistence between persons of the different ethnic and racial communities of Kenya and to advise the Government on all aspects thereof after the violence that followed the December 2007 elections In Kenya Bridging Ethnic Divides A Commissioner s Experience on Cohesion and Integration Commissioner Alice Wairim Nderit looks behind the scenes at the NCIC s efforts to ensure peaceful co existence Such as working with elders mediating confidentially between political leaders at the highest levels and co founding and working as first Co Chair of Uwiano Platform for Peace a conflict prevention agency largely credited with leading efforts in ensuring peaceful processes during the 2010 Constitutional referendum and 2013 General elections The book tells of NCIC s efforts in grappling with the seemingly intractable problem of managing the negative consequence of ethnic differences on questions such as Why is Kenya so ethnically polarised Why is an ethnic group the key defining factor in Kenyan politics What hope is there for an inclusive Kenya The book shows that positive policies and intra and inter ethnic spaces can be used to counter negative influences that lead to fear exclusion and violence The diversity of Kenya s ethnicities and races need not be a pretext for conflict but a source of truly national identity It proves that dialogue on understanding differences and commonalities leads to improved relationships and understanding on societal dynamics This in turn contributes to preventing and transforming conflicts through appropriate inclusion policies identifying entry points for change as well as opportunities to tackle the norms and behaviours that underpin structural disparities
