Australian National Bibliography, 1978 Hossein Valamanesh Mary Knights, Ian North, 2011 Deceptively simple Valamanesh's work is often made with elemental substances natural materials found objects for example Persian Carpets an old photo of his grandmother or a pair of worn shoes resonating with cultural and personal associations Second International Handbook of Science Education Barry J. Fraser, Kenneth Tobin, Campbell J. McRobbie, 2011-12-13 The International Handbook of Science Education is a two volume edition pertaining to the most significant issues in science education It is a follow up to the first Handbook published in 1998 which is seen as the most authoritative resource ever produced in science education The chapters in this edition are reviews of research in science education and retain the strong international flavor of the project It covers the diverse theories and methods that have been a foundation for science education and continue to characterize this field Each section contains a lead chapter that provides an overview and synthesis of the field and related chapters that provide a narrower focus on research and current thinking on the key issues in that field Leading researchers from around the world have participated as authors and consultants to produce a resource that is comprehensive detailed and up to date The chapters provide the most recent and advanced thinking in science education making the Handbook again the most authoritative resource in science education Research in Mathematics Education in Australasia 2008-2011 Bob Perry, Tom Lowrie, Tracy Logan, Amy MacDonald, Jane Greenlees, 2012-09-11 This is the eighth edition of the four yearly review of mathematics education research in Australasia Commissioned by the Mathematics Education Research Group of Australasia MERGA this review critiques the most current Australasian research in mathematics education in the four years from 2008-2011 The main objective of this review is to celebrate and recognise significant findings highlight relationships between research identify themes and forecast further research directions This theme based review has produced a comprehensive analysis of Australasian research in a politically challenging time producing a manuscript with implications for a wider international audience As the 2009 Felix Klein medal winner Gilah Leder states A substantial body of research is captured in the chapters of this review It encompasses the labours of a community of active researchers with varied interests and diverse theoretical perspectives Some of the issues explored in the period covered by this volume clearly resonate with questions and concerns particularly pertinent to the changing educational environment others are more aptly described as continuing or renewed explorations of areas of long standing concern Language in Epistemic Access Caroline Kerfoot, Anne-Marie Simon-Vandenberg, 2018-07-26 This book focuses on how to address persistent linguistically structured inequalities in education primarily in relation to South African schools but also in conversation with Australian work and with resonances for other multilingual contexts around the world The book as a whole lays bare the tension between the commitment to multilingualism enshrined in the South African Constitution and language in education policy and the realities of the dominance of English and the virtual absence of indigenous African languages in current educational practices It suggests that dynamic plurilingual pedagogies can be allied with the explicit scaffolding of genre based pedagogies to help redress asymmetries in epistemic access and to re imagine policies pedagogies and practices more in tune with the realities of multilingual classrooms The contributions to this book offer complementary insights on routes to improving access to school knowledge especially for learners whose home language or language variety is different to that of teaching and learning at school All subscribe to similar ideologies which include the view that multilingualism should be seen as a resource rather than a problem in education Commentaries on these chapters highlight evidence based high impact educational responses and suggest that translanguaging and genre may well offer opportunities for students to expand their linguistic repertoires and to bridge epistemological differences between community and school This book was originally published as a special issue of Language and Education
