Workshop Statistics: Allan J. Rossman, Beth L. Chance, 2013-12-01 Shorn of all subtlety and led naked out of the protective fold of educational research literature there comes a sheepish little fact lectures don't work nearly as well as many of us would like to think George Cobb 1992 This book contains activities that guide students to discover statistical concepts explore statistical principles and apply statistical techniques Students work toward these goals through the analysis of genuine data and through interaction with one another with their instructor and with technology Providing a one semester introduction to fundamental ideas of statistics for college and advanced high school students Workshop Statistics is designed for courses that employ an interactive learning environment by replacing lectures with hands on activities The text contains enough expository material to stand alone but it can also be used to supplement a more traditional textbook Some distinguishing features of Workshop Statistics are its emphases on active learning conceptual understanding genuine data and the use of technology The following sections of this preface elaborate on each of these aspects and also describe the unusual organizational structure of this text

Workshop Statistics Allan J. Rossman, Beth L. Chance, 2011-10-25 Allan Rossman's 4th Edition of Workshop Statistics Discovery with Data is enhanced from previous issues with more focus and emphasis on collaborative learning It further requires student observation and integrates technology for gathering recording and synthesizing data The text offers more flexibility in selecting technology tools for classrooms primarily using technologies other than graphing calculators or Fathom Dynamic Data software Furthermore it presents more standards for teaching statistics in an innovative investigative and accessible as well as provides in depth guidance and resources to support active learning of statistics and includes updated real data sets with everyday applications in order to promote statistical literacy

Underwater Acoustic Modeling and Simulation, Fourth Edition Paul C. Etter, 2013-02-21 Underwater Acoustic Modeling and Simulation Fourth Edition continues to provide the most authoritative overview of currently available propagation noise reverberation and sonar performance models This fourth edition of a bestseller discusses the fundamental processes involved in simulating the performance of underwater acoustic systems and emphasizes the importance of applying the proper modeling resources to simulate the behavior of sound in virtual ocean environments New to the Fourth Edition Extensive new material that addresses recent advances in inverse techniques and marine mammal protection Problem sets in each chapter Updated and expanded inventories of available models Designed for readers with an understanding of underwater acoustics but who are unfamiliar with the various aspects of modeling the book includes sufficient mathematical derivations to demonstrate model formulations and provides guidelines for selecting and using the models Examples of each type of model illustrate model formulations model assumptions and algorithm efficiency Simulation case studies are also included to demonstrate practical applications Providing a thorough source of information on modeling resources this book examines the translation of our physical understanding of sound in the sea into mathematical models that simulate acoustic propagation noise and reverberation in the ocean The text shows how these models are used to predict and diagnose the performance of complex sonar systems operating in the undersea environment Bäcklund and Darboux

Transformations A. A. Coley, 2001-01-01 This book is devoted to a classical topic that has undergone rapid and fruitful development over the past 25 years namely Backlund and Darboux transformations and their applications in the theory of integrable systems also known as soliton theory The book consists of two parts The first is a series of introductory pedagogical lectures presented by leading experts in the field They are devoted respectively to Backlund transformations of Painleve equations to the dressing method and Backlund and Darboux transformations and to the classical geometry of Backlund transformations and their applications to soliton theory The second part contains original contributions that represent new developments in the theory and applications of these transformations Both the introductory lectures and the original talks were presented at an International Workshop that took place in Halifax Nova Scotia Canada This volume covers virtually all recent developments in the theory and applications of Backlund and Darboux transformations Catalog of agroforestry practices and perennial crops present the best opportunities for sequestration. While many of these systems are challenging to establish and manage and would require us to change our diets to new and largely unfamiliar perennial crops, they also offer huge potential that has been almost entirely ignored by climate crusaders. Many of these carbon farming practices are already implemented globally on a scale of millions of hectares. These are not minor or marginal efforts but win-win solutions that provide food, fodder, and feedstocks while fostering community self-reliance, creating jobs, protecting biodiversity, and repairing degraded land, all while sequestering carbon, reducing emissions, and ultimately contributing to a climate that will remain amenable to human civilization. Just as importantly, to a livable future, these crops and practices can contribute to broader social goals such as women's empowerment, food sovereignty, and climate justice. The Carbon Farming Solution is at its root a toolkit and the most complete collection of climate-friendly crops and practices currently available. With this toolkit, farmers, communities, and governments large and small can successfully launch carbon farming projects with the most appropriate crops and practices to their climate locale and socioeconomic needs. Toensmeier's ultimate goal is to place carbon farming firmly in the center of the climate solutions platform alongside clean solar and wind energy. With The Carbon Farming Solution, Toensmeier wants to change the discussion, impact policy decisions, and steer mitigation funds to the research projects and people around the world who envision a future where agriculture becomes the protagonist in this fraught, urgent, and unprecedented drama of our time. Citizens, farmers, and funders will be inspired to use the tools presented in this important book to transform degraded lands around the world into productive carbon-storing landscapes.

Innovations in Teaching Statistics Joan B. Garfield, 2005. This is a book of stories about teaching statistics. These stories are told by fourteen different instructors of innovative statistics courses who demonstrate that learning statistics can be a positive, meaningful, and even exciting experience. Despite the prevailing opinion that statistics courses are dull and difficult for students, these stories paint quite a different picture. In the classes of the instructors whose stories fill this book, students are engaged in learning, are empowered to do statistics, and appreciate the instructional methods of their teachers. The instructors profiled in this book are inspiring, dedicated teachers who have devoted considerable effort to creating courses and materials that enable students to successfully learn statistics. Each chapter begins by describing how the author became a teacher of statistics, then provides details about the courses they currently teach, describing their teaching method, textbook types, student assessments, and uses of technology. One typical class is described in detail to provide a snapshot of what each person's teaching looks like. The writers then tell the story of the process they went through in developing an innovative course and conclude their chapters with a discussion of their future plans for course revision or development. As you read these stories, you will learn about some great activities, some helpful technological tools, and some innovative assessment methods. By reading these stories, teachers of statistics will understand and be motivated to try different ways to implement reform recommendations so that these recommendations may continue to lead to a variety of new materials, activities, and
