DISCUSSION

Early maps were the pictures of what people imagined the world might be. The earliest known map was made in 600 B.C. by the Babylonians. This map was made in clay and was a picture of the world as it was known at that time. The map shows the world as a circle with the known world in the center. The unknown world was shown as a ring of land around the known world. The map also shows the known world as a circle with the known world in the center. The unknown world was shown as a ring of land around the known world. The map also shows the known world as a circle with the known world in the center. The unknown world was shown as a ring of land around the known world.
