Standards Focus Bildungsromans:

A History of the Bildungsroman Sarah Graham, 2019-01-03 The Bildungsroman has been one of the most significant genres in Western literature since the eighteenth century This volume comprised of eleven chapters by leading experts in the field offers original insights into how the novel of formation developed a strong tradition in Germany France Britain Russia and the USA In demonstrating how the genre has been adopted and adapted in innovative forms of fiction this volume also shows how a genre traditionally associated with the young white man has been used to give expression to the formative experiences of women LGBTQ people and post colonial populations Exploring the genre s emergence and evolution in numerous countries and across more than two hundred years this volume provides unprecedented historical and geographical coverage and demonstrates that the Bildungsroman has a rich heritage and a bright future Margaret Atwood and the Female Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams, 2017-03-02 Examining Margaret Atwood s work in the context of the complex history of the Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams explores how the genre has been appropriated by women writers in the second half of the twentieth century She demonstrates that Atwood s early work her own coming of age fiction including unpublished works as well as The Edible Woman Surfacing and Lady Oracle both engages with and works against the paradigms of identity which are traditionally associated with the genre Making extensive use of unpublished manuscripts in the Atwood Collection at the University of Toronto McWilliams uncovers influences that shaped Atwood s fashioning of identity in her early novels paying particular attention to Atwood s preoccupation with survival as a key symbol of Canadian literature culture and identity She also considers the genre s afterlife on display in Cat s Eye The Robber Bride Alias Grace The Blind Assassin and Moral Disorder in which the formulations of selfhood and identity in Atwood s early fiction are revisited and developed Atwood emerges as a writer who self consciously invokes and then undercuts the traditions of the Bildungsroman a turn that may be read as a means of at once interrogating and perpetuating the form McWilliams s book furthers our understanding of subjectivity in Atwood s fiction and contributes to ongoing conversations about the role gender and cultural contexts play in reframing generic boundaries A History of the Bildungsroman Petru Golban, 2018-09-30 This book establishes a vector of methodology in the approach to a particular type of fictional discourse namely the English Bildungsroman the novel of identity formation Its wide ranging critical perspectives are also useful to anyone concerned with first of all European and English novelistic genres but also to those interested in theoretical perspectives of modern fiction studies in general as well as in certain aspects of Western literature as a developing tradition Growing Up Ethnic Martin Japtok, 2005-04 Growing Up Ethnic examines the presence of literary similarities between African American and Jewish American coming of age stories in the first half of the twentieth century often these similarities exceed what could be explained by sociohistorical correspondences alone Martin Japtok argues that these similarities result from the way both African American and Jewish American authors have conceptualized their ethnic situation The issue of race and its social repercussions certainly defy any easy comparisons. However, the fact that the ethnic situations are far from identical in the case of these two groups only highlights the striking thematic correspondences in how a number of African American and Jewish American coming of age stories construct ethnicity. JapTok studies three pairs of novels: James Weldon Johnson's Autobiography of an Ex-Coloured Man and Samuel Ornitz's Haunch Paunch and Jowl; Jessie Fauset's Plum Bun and Edna Ferber's Fanny Herself; and Paule Marshall's Brown Girl, Brownstones and Anzia Yezierska's Bread Giver, and argues that the similarities can be explained with reference to mainly two factors: ultimately intertwined cultural nationalism and the Bildungsroman genre. Growing Up Ethnic shows that the parallel configurations in the novels, which often see ethnicity in terms of spirituality as inherent artistic ability and as communal responsibility, are rooted in nationalist ideology. However, due to the authors' generic choice, the Bildungsroman's tendency to view ethnicity through the rhetorical lens of communalism and spiritual essence runs head-on into the individualist assumptions of the protagonist-centered Bildungsroman. The negotiations between these ideological counterpoints characterize the novels and reflect and refract the intellectual ferment of their time. This fresh look at ethnic American literatures in the context of cultural nationalism and the Bildungsroman will be of great interest to students and scholars of literary and race studies.

Body Politics in Contemporary Irish Women's Fiction Ellen Scheible, 2024-12-12 Exploring twentieth and twenty-first century texts that wrestle with the Irish domestic interior as a sexualized and commodified space, this book provides readings of the power and authority of the feminized body in Ireland. Scheible dissects the ways that the woman as symbol remains consistent in Irish literary representations of national experience in Irish fiction and shows how this problematizes the role of women in Ireland by underscoring the oppression of sexuality and gender that characterized Irish culture during the twentieth century. Examining works by Elizabeth Bowen, Pamela Hinkson, Emma Donoghue, Tana French, Sally Rooney, and James Joyce, this book demonstrates that the definition of Irish nationhood in our contemporary experience of capitalism and biopolitics is dependent on the intertwining and paradoxical tropes of a traditional yet equally sexual feminine identity, which has been quelled by violence and reproduction.

Bildungsroman Tradition in English Literature Halit Alkan, 2023-10-15

Bildungsroman Tradition in English Literature Growing Up a Woman Milena Kaličanin, Soňa Šnircová, 2015-10-13 This book explores contemporary transformations of the female Bildungsroman, showing that the intersection of the genre and gender brought to critical attention in the context of second-wave feminism remains of equal importance in the era of postfeminism. The female Bildung narrative has acquired an important position in twentieth and twenty-first century literature through its continuing depiction of female self-discovery and emancipation as a process of negotiating the traditional divisions of female and male roles in relation to the private and public spaces. Recognizing the seminal contribution of feminist criticism to the definition of the genre and the role of feminist cultural processes in its thematic developments this volume investigates more recent influences on the female Bildung narrative and the influence of the classic female Bildungsroman on contemporary cultural texts As a collection of fifteen essays written by international scholars the book offers a representative sample of the narratives of female development presenting a variety of genres including the novel the short story autobiography TV series and Internet video blogs and theoretical frameworks adopting hermeneutic postcolonial feminist and postfeminist perspectives In its diversity this volume reveals that despite the ongoing process of women s emancipation the heroine s struggle with the private public divide has remained throughout the twentieth century and in the first decades of the new millennium a central issue in stories about the female quest for self definition The book will be of interest to scholars and students in the fields of literary women and gender studies particularly those interested in the narratives of female development that represent American and British cultural contexts

Victorian Fiction as a Bildungsroman Petru Golban, 2019-09-30 Metaphorically speaking the nineteenth century English Bildungsroman dealing with the principle of identity formation parallels Victorian fiction as a whole revealing the completion of its own formation which began in the eighteenth century Significantly the most important and popular Victorian novels are Bildungsromane in which authors construct or rather reconstruct their own life experiences as formative processes This book shows that the Bildungsroman has a development history is a specific literary system and consists of a thematic and narrative pattern It details the entrance of this newly established fictional tradition into Victorian culture and literature through Carlyle's threefold literary reception of the novel of formation and its subsequent flourishing and complexity In this respect a number of novelistic works are scrutinized and each faces the question as to whether its thematic and narrative perspectives fit the pattern and shape of the Bildungsroman
