

STANFORD ESSAY SAMPLE

Prompt: Discuss an accomplishment or event, formal or informal, that marked your transition from childhood to adulthood within your culture, community, or family.

When I take a look at a picture of my younger self, I always comment on how I have changed and grown, not just physically, but also emotionally and mentally as an individual. About a month after the recent photo I was looking at was taken, I entered AA College without any knowledge as to what I should expect. I was a young lady who was several thousand miles away from home.

Surrounding me is a complete picture of things that are different from what I used to know. However, I see my priorities really well. I love studying different kinds of planes and cars. If there is one special occurrence that can happen to a person is the diversity of our student body, which proves us a big help for us new students there. I am not really sure whether or not the speed up of my maturing process is good for me or not, but I know that I have benefitted well.

The classroom environment has become an entirely different world for me. Before, the students and teachers were preaching the importance of knowledge and learning. It was also obvious that students were concerned of the grades. However, I believe that effort should come from us, the students.

I particularly liked one teacher who always assigned us to prepare everyday in order to discuss a book. What makes it unique is that she made the requirements clear we should be able to maximize the sources we have, but not allowed to look at the book. We can ask from other people in the school. Because of that teaching strategy, I learned the importance of 'thinking'. I believe this is very important as I continue with my education further.

Hater John Semley, 2018-10-23 A timely manifesto urging us to think critically form opinions and then argue them with gusto Hater begins from a simple premise that it's good to hate things Not people or groups or benign belief systems but things More to the point it's good to hate the things everyone seems to like Scan the click baiting headlines of your favorite news or pop culture website and you're likely to find that just about everything is supposedly what we need right now We are the victims of an unbridled unearned optimism And our world demands pessimism It's vital to be contrarian now as they say more than ever Because ours is an age of calcified consensus And we should all hate that In this scathing and funny rebuke of the status quo journalist John Semley illustrates that looking for and identifying nonsense isn't just a useful exercise for society it's also a lot of fun But Hater doesn't just skewer terrible TV shows and hit songs at its core it shows us how to meaningfully talk about and engage with culture and the world Ultimately Hater is what we actually need right now
