

The scene was composed of three elements: the Millennium Falcon, the Falcon's engines, and the Falcon's wings. The Falcon's engines were the most important part of the scene, as they were the only part that was visible in the shot. The Falcon's wings were also visible, but they were not as important as the engines. The Falcon itself was visible in the background, but it was not the focus of the scene.

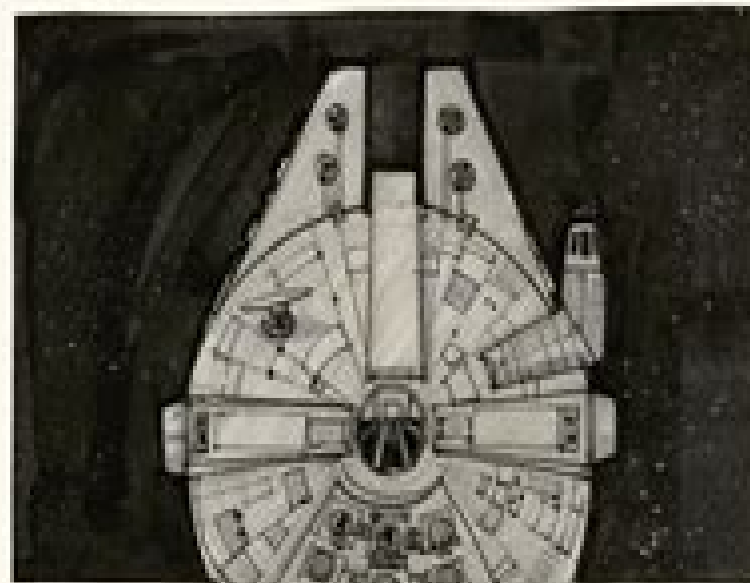

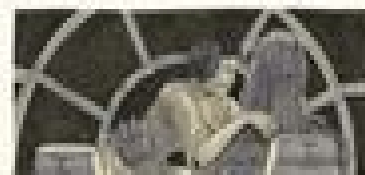

"There were three shots of the Falcon, one of the engines, and one of the wings. The Falcon was the most important part of the scene, as it was the only part that was visible in the shot. The engines and wings were also visible, but they were not as important as the Falcon itself."

Joe Johnston

The scene was shot in a single take, with the Falcon, the engines, and the wings all visible in the shot.

The scene was shot in a single take, with the Falcon, the engines, and the wings all visible in the shot.
