Stop Falling for the Okeydoke Stephen A. Tillet, 2017-05-22 The United States of America has been plagued by a critical birth defect since its founding the idea that race matters Stephen A. Tillet an Air Force veteran and pastor for the past 27 years argues that race is a social construct and has no basis in science But sadly it has permeated every aspect of American life for hundreds of years The Bible has been prescient in speaking to this regrettable dynamic What has been will be again what has been done will be done again there is nothing new under the sun Ecclesiastes 1:9 Instead of focusing on obstacles that we all face and dreams we all share race and racism has kept people of common interests artificially divided As Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said We must learn to live together as brothers and sisters or perish together as fools To do what King suggested we must stop making vigorous assertions about assumptions that are demonstrably untrue We must stop believing in ideas that have a visceral appeal but lead to immoral outcomes We must Stop Falling for the Okeydoke Book trailer <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EwK9z81GE9A>

Ulysses: Episodes 1 through 11 James Joyce, 1984 A modernist novel by Irish writer James Joyce It was first serialized in parts in the American journal The Little Review from March 1918 to December 1920 and then published in its entirety in Paris by Sylvia Beach on 2 February 1922 Joyce's 40th birthday. It is considered one of the most important works of modernist literature and has been called a demonstration and summation of the entire movement. According to Declan Kiberd, "Before Joyce no writer of fiction had so foregrounded the process of thinking." Ulysses chronicles the peripatetic appointments and encounters of Leopold Bloom in Dublin in the course of an ordinary day. 16 June 1904. Ulysses is the Latinised name of Odysseus, the hero of Homer's epic poem the Odyssey, and the novel establishes a series of parallels between the poem and the novel with structural correspondences between the characters and experiences of Bloom and Odysseus, Molly Bloom and Penelope, and Stephen Dedalus and Telemachus, in addition to events and themes of the early 20th century context of modernism in Dublin and Ireland's relationship to Britain. The novel is highly allusive and also imitates the styles of different periods of English literature.

Terror Television John Kenneth Muir, 2013-02-25 Although horror shows on television are popular in the 1990s thanks to the success of Chris Carter's The X-Files, such has not always been the case. Creators Rod Serling, Dan Curtis, William Castle, Quinn Martin, John Newland, George Romero, Stephen King, David Lynch, Wes Craven, Sam Raimi, Aaron Spelling, and others have toiled to bring the horror genre to American living rooms for years. This large-scale reference book documents an entire genre from the dawn of modern horror television with the watershed Serling anthology Night Gallery (1970), a show lensed in color and featuring more graphic makeup and violence than ever before seen on the tube, through more than 30 programs including those of the 1998-1999 season. Complete histories, critical reception, episode guides, cast/crew, and guest star information, as well as series reviews, are included along with footnotes, a lengthy bibliography, and an in-depth index. From Kolchak: The Night Stalker to Millennium, from The Evil Touch to Buffy the Vampire Slayer and Twin Peaks, Terror Television is a detailed reference guide to three decades of frightening television programs, both memorable and obscure. The
