Oil in the 21st Century Robert Mabro, 2006 Oil is hitting the headlines once again The big increases in oil prices over the past two years are upsetting consumers and puzzling producers The reasons are difficult to understand since few people are familiar with the complex workings of the price regime for oil in international trade It is said that sluggish investment is a major cause but what are the reasons for inadequate investment in oil producing and refining plants during the last 20 years Does oil have a future We are told that oil production will soon peak because the rate of production is higher than replacement rates Climate change problems are casting a shadow over the future of fossil fuels There may however be a solution to the nefarious CO2 emissions in for instance technologies that sequester carbon Oil's stronghold is the transport sector cars trucks railway engines planes ships The demand for oil would suffer a fatal blow if technical innovations in car engines make it possible to use an alternative fuel to petrol or diesel New energy sources wind solar tide waves geo thermal are both renewable and environment friendly Do they represent a threat to the future of oil An international team of experts addresses these highly topical questions in this comprehensive volume Manual of Oil and Gas Terms, 2003 A Modern Dictionary of the English Language, 1911 A Critical Pronouncing Dictionary, and Expositor of the English Language ... John Walker, 1806 The Trading States of the Oil Rivers G. I. Jones, 2000 This vivid account of the rise of the remarkable slave and palm oil trading states in the Niger delta in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries also analyses the relation of political development to economic change The author's field studies among the Ijo Ibibio and Ibo peoples have made possible an analysis of the essential processes of economic and political transformation which lay behind the oral traditions There are also detailed and often lively accounts of the European traders The study concentrates on the two principal Oil Rivers states which nineteenth century writers called New Calabar and Grand Bonny For purposes of comparison the adjacent states of Brass Nem and Okrika the Andoni peoples and the Efik state known to Europeans as Old Calabar are also examined The study ends in 1884 the year that marks the beginning of the British Protectorate government and with it the end of indigenous systems of government which characterised these Oil River States during the nineteenth century The monarchies established in the eighteenth century by King Pepple of Bonny and King Armakiri of Kalabari and the political and economic organisations developed under their rule were coming to or had already come to an end with new oligarchies developing in their place Manual of Oil and Gas Terms Howard R.
