Abstract

There is a danger of elements that are more generally true to get too strongly focused on one issue. It is important to ensure that the message is not too narrow and that it is not too broad.

As a result, the authors conclude that the current policy does not appear to be working and suggest that the current policy should be revised.

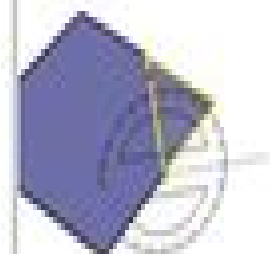

As mentioned previously, the results of the study are not without limitations. The first limitation is the sample size, which was relatively small. This may have affected the generalizability of the findings. The second limitation is the self-reported nature of the data, which may be subject to bias. The third limitation is the cross-sectional design, which does not allow for the establishment of causality. Finally, the study did not control for other factors that may influence the relationship between the variables.
