Douglass, 2014-09-11 All interpretive systems deal with the author. Modern systems consider the text to be autonomous so that it is disconnected from the author's interests. In Reading the Bible Ethically Eric Douglass reconsiders this connection. His central argument is that the author is a subject who reproduces her culture and her subjectivity in the text. As the author reproduces her subjectivity the text functions as the author's voice. This allows Douglass to apply ethical principles to interpretation where that voice is treated as a subject for conversation and not an object for manipulation. He uses this to texture the reading process so that an initial reading takes account of the author's communication while a second reading critiques that communication. Testing for Learning Ruth Mitchell, 2010-05-11 Arguing that traditional test based
